Assassination Try Believed Nazi Plot

PARIS (AP) — French resistance leaders expressed belief today German officers left behind for the very purpose were responsible for two attempts on the life of Gen. de Gaulle.

The first shot was fired at the leader of the French Committee of National Liberation Saturday while he was driving from a square crowded by thousands of Parisians before the Hotel de Ville. The second attempt was made as he was entering Notre Dame Cathedral.

First Radio Pictures Show Joy of Parisians as Triumphant Allied Armies Enter Their City

Citizens of Paris, free after four years of German domination, crowd into a street and celebrate the liberation of the French capital. This picture was radioed from Cherbourg.

Among the first Allied vehicles to enter the French capital, this jeep was nearly swamped by a joyous crowd of Parisians.

Crowds lined the streets to cheer and clap entering Allied troops. Pockets of German resistance in the capital finally have been liquidated and the city is at last free.

Soviet Armies Quickly Overrun Ploesti Oil Area

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP) — Two great Russian army groups paced by colorful Cossacks advanced within less than 50 miles of Bucharest today in a drive swiftly overrunning the wealthy Ploesti oil region.

An unconfirmed report said some columns had plunged also 50 miles into Transylvania.

(The German radio aserted tonight Russian troops had reached the Hungarian border at "one of the Carpathian bases. "In Hungarian territory to the southwest, a German counterattack was successful," the broadcast added.)

The main Russian direction in Romania was toward Bucharest, but numerous columns moved off the Russian right flank into the Carpathians. It was one of these which was reported deep in Transylvania—which capitulated Romania has sworn to retake from Hungary.

Strong air forces were bombing and strafing the disorganized Germans day and night.

East of captured Galati in the breached defences in the gap between the mountains and the Danube mouth, advance Russian troops poured down the highway toward Bucharest on roads which skirt the Bargan Steppe north of the Bulgarian frontier.

TRY TO MAKE STAND

Front dispatches said Nazi storm troopers were haranguing and threatening the German troops in efforts to make a stand. There was sporadic resistance, but the armies of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin and Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky appeared to have broken the back of the Nazi forces before Bucharest.

(A Bucharest communique said Romanian troops going over to the Allies struck the Germans at Ploesti and blocked mountain passes leading to Hungary by way of Transylvania.

(German broadcasts frankly admitted their position was "precarious," and said Nazi troops were locked in "unusually ferocious" battle with Romanian troops amid the twisted wreckage of Ploesti oil field installations.)

Bulgaria To Get Terms For Peace From Allies Soon

LONDON (AP) — Surrender terms for Bulgaria probably will be handed to an envoy of that Nazi satellite in Cairo within a few days and armistice terms for Romania are expected to be signed shortly in Moscow, it was learned today.

The Russians asked Germany's remaining allies Finland, Hungary and the rump state of Slovakia—to quit the Nazis before it is too late.

Urging other countries to turn against the Nazis as Romania has done, the official Communist party organ, Pravda, said only thus could they "escape the disastrous consequences of the criminal policies of their governments."

Poles With 8th Army Throw Nazis Back

ROME (AP) — Attacking fiercely against German forces withdrawing slowly into their Gothic Line defences for a last stand in northern Italy, Polish troops have punched a path through Nazi strongholds behind the Metauro River and have fought on across the Arzilla, Allied headquarters announced today.

The advances placed British 8th Army units in the Adriatic sector within five miles of the important port of Pesaro and only a little more than 20 miles from Rimini at the southern edge of the broad Po valley.

Asks Brown, Orchard Pattullo Be Called

VANCOUVER (CP) — An unexpected turn developed in the Sloan commission's probe of B.C. forest conditions today with the application by Francis R. Turnley, former advertising manager of Heaps Engineering (1940) Ltd., for the subpoenaing of four witnesses.

Those named are: C. D. Orchard, the provincial government's chief forester; T. D. Pattullo, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert; Thomas Wilkinson, one-time secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association, and Roy Brown, editorial director of the Vancouver Sun and former editor of the Province.

Freed In France

CPO. William (Bill) Dixon Mitchell, who was taken prisoner when H.M.C.S. Athabascan was sunk during an engagement in the English Channel last May, is now safe in England, having been liberated when the Allied forces captured Orleans.

Mrs. H. Mitchell, 1082 Richmond Road, received a long distance call Sunday from her son's wife, who lives in Vancouver, telling her the news.

CPO. Mitchell suffered a broken leg and bad burns when Athabaskan went down and was taken prisoner with three other Victorians, CPO. Steve Dunnell; AB. J. A. Bell, and LS. R. G. Dalzell, who were sent to prisoner camps when Mitchell went to hospital.

Mitchell was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, 42 years ago. He came here when quite young and attended Willows School. He joined the Army in the first World War as a bugler and got as far as Halifax. He served on C.P.R. coast boats as engineer for 16 years before joining the Canadian Navy.

French Set Up New Government In Freed Paris

PARIS (AP)—A new French government was being set up in liberated Paris today after a frenzied week-end in which Gen. Eisenhower was given a tmultuous welcome. The Germans bombed the city, and Gen. de Gaulle escaped death or injury from snipers' bullets.

Quartus Cerat, head of all French resistance, was appointed minister-at-large under Gen. de Gaulle. Cerat's name, like some others in the resistance movement, is an assumed one.

Gen. Eisenhower and his British, French and U.S. staffs made a ceremonial tour of the city Sunday that ended in the shadow of the Arc de Triomphe.

German planes had bombed Paris suburbs Saturday night, and early Sunday the sky was aglow from the light of fires. The death toll was placed at 110, with 719 persons injured.

Ideal Weather Marks Election In New Brunswick

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — Casting of ballots in the New Brunswick general election began today when the polls opened at 9 a.m. A.D.T. (5 a.m. P.D.T.). The polls closed at 7 p.m. A.D.T.

Bright sunshine ushered in an ideal day for the voters to get to the polls. Officials indicated there was a good-sized vote, largely because of the three-party angle in the contest.

Half Germans Knocked Out Since South France Landings

By GEORGE TUCKER

ROME (AP)—More than half of all German soldiers garrisoning southern France prior to the Allied landings are believed to have been killed, wounded or captured in less than two weeks, and today the tattered remnants were fighting a frantic battle in Rhone valley to escape a trap.

U.S. troops have reached the Rhone valley north of Montelimar, 100 airline miles north of Marseille, and have cut the line of retreat of the German 11th Armored Division and other troops to the south, field dispatches said today.

At least 50,000 enemy front line troops were estimated to have been knocked out of the war in the invasion of southern France to date. The German 11th Division was being pressed from the south by other U.S. units, harassed by Maquis in the hills to the west and cut up by Allied artillery fire from the east.

The Germans were making a fierce effort to cut a way through to Valence, 25 miles north of Montelimar, it was said, but the Americans were confident of their ability to crush the breakthrough attempts.

The Germans were attempting to withdraw northward through the Rhone Valley along the river's east bank when a column from Lt.-Gen. Patch's advancing army fell on them and in a series of rough encounters killed untold hundreds, a headquarter's announcement said. Montelimar is about 100 miles north of Marseille.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. H. H. Stevens, former Bennett cabinet minister, has announced his name will be placed before the Progressive Conservative nominating convention for the federal riding of Burrard.

Former Conservative Trade Minister, he ran for the national leadership at the 1942 Progressive Conservative convention, but was defeated. He represented Vancouver Centre, winning four elections from 1917 onward.

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Department officials said this afternoon 1944 purchases of bacon for the United Kingdom now total 511,000,000 pounds—more than the minimum of 500,000,000 pounds promised for the two calendar years 1944 and 1945.

Seek Typhoid Carrier

VANCOUVER (CP) — City health authorities are looking for a typhoid fever carrier in Vancouver's east end following discovery of the second case of typhoid in the same family within three weeks. A five-year-old girl whose brother was stricken earlier this month is in hospital with the disease. This brings to six the number of typhoid cases in the city.

Tram Men Will Vote Sept. 8 On Wage Rate

Canadians Hold Seine Bridgehead; Drive On Dieppe

By JAMES M. LONG

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS (AP) — British forces established a fifth bridgehead across the Seine today and U.S. troops, sweeping in a wide arc threatening German lines of retreat into the Reich, have crossed the Marne and captured Meaux, 23 miles east of Paris.

The new bridgehead was made near Louviers, a few miles upriver from the crossing at Pont de l'Arche, where the 1st Canadian Army was moving toward the backdoor to Dieppe, scene of the gallant Canadian raid of Aug. 19, 1942. Dieppe is roughly 45 miles due north of Pont de l'Arche.

In addition to this bridgehead, the Canadians forced another slightly south of Pont de l'Arche.

Headquarters reported progress at these bridgeheads as well as the U.S. one at Mantes, 30 miles northwest of Paris and another British bridgehead at Vernon, 10 miles northwest of Mantes.

Meanwhile the Germans in the Marne area were yielding the battleground of the First Great War without a fight as the Americans swept on through Meaux, in the Marne River loop. Sedan, a famous battlefield in the Franco-Prussian war and in 1940, was 105 miles to the northeast.

STUBBORN FIGHTING

The enemy, however, was fighting stubbornly in the corridor between the Risle and the Seine and giving ground slowly in the Canadian sector, said Robert C. Wilson of the Associated Press reporter.

An earlier dispatch from Canadian Press War Correspondent William Stewart said German resistance in that area seemed "completely disorganized," and a senior British staff officer told A.P. War Correspondent John F. Chester "Rouen is another Chambois shambles," in which some 20,000 Germans, trapped in three pockets, are trying madly to escape the Allied ground and air pounding.

For the first time in this war U.S. troops were fighting on a battlefield of the First Great War. The town of Meaux marked the high tide of the German attempt to take Paris in September, 1944—an attempt which ended with the Allied victory of the first battle of the Marne when the Paris taxicab army stemmed the German tide.

The whole Allied attack today was swinging north on or across the Seine River along almost the whole 200 miles from its source to the sea.

Between Paris and the English Channel, U.S., British and Canadian armies deepened four bridgeheads over the Seine and have doomed Rouen, where Joan of Arc was tried and burned. Rouen, 13th city of France, with 122,800 population, now is the centre of German resistance, such as it is.

The Allies also virtually doomed the great port of Le Havre and have opened the way into the Germans' flying bomb belt in the Pas de Calais farther north.

The U.S. bridgehead was at Mantes, the British at Vernon, and the Canadians had two between Elbeuf and Pont de l'Arche.

U.S. 3rd Army infantry was streaming into the great tank-won bulge between the Seine and the Marne, forming a consolidated front 85 miles or more almost due east of Paris in a great half-wheel around the still exuberant and now almost cleared French capital.

BUZZ-BOMB COAST

The push through Meaux, 10 miles beyond the first-won foothold along the Marne at Lagny, was described as meeting virtually no opposition. It gave the Americans an assault line from which they could turn any Marne defence or stab north in a deep encirclement of the rocket-bomb coast.

Baseballers Donate $145.41

For the Victoria and island boys with the Canadian Scottish in France, the Scottish Comforts Fund received $145.41 today, proceeds from the sale of programs and score-cards at the baseball games at Royal Athletic Park between Victoria All-Stars and Seattle Coastguard Saturday.

This money was collected by Victoria girls under the direction of the Women's Auxiliary.

D. Gregory Smith sent $2 to the fund today, bringing total to $2,552.73.

Donations should be addressed to Kay McIntyre, Times editorial, who is acting as secretary-treasurer for the Scottish Comforts Fund, or in Duncan to J. B. Creighton, Cowichan Leader.

Nets Nearly $15,000,000 From Island Timber

VANCOUVER Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway Company, operating the Vancouver Island division of the C.P.R., has sold 763,565 acres of island land, containing 7,023,975,656 feet of timber, for $14,814,792, according to figures presented by J. E. McMullen, K.C., counsel in B.C. for the C.P.R. and vice-president and director of the E. and N., to the Royal Commission enquiring into B.C.'s logging industry. Acting Chief Justice Gordon Sloan is commissioner.

In addition to the C.P.R. figures, the Commission has entered as an exhibit figures compiled by the Bureau of Economics and Statistics of the B.C. Department of Trade and Industry, taken from Poor's Railway Manual, recognized as an authority in railway information.

These figures show that the original cost of the E. and N. was approximately $3,000,000, with an original subscribed capital of $2,500,000. In 1893, these figures show, the Dominion government paid the E. and N. a subsidy of $750,000. A further subsidy of $770,560 was paid by the Dominion after the C.P.R. took over the road and extended it 121 miles from Wellington to Port Alberni and Courtenay. Cost of this extension is given as $5,500,000.

Poor's figures show the railway, from 1893 to Dec. 31, 1931, had a net profit of $6,643,172. This was on the railway operation alone and did not include timber sales. No figures are available since 1931.

In 1887 the E. and N. received a grant of 2,000,000 acres of land from the B.C. government in return for building 78 miles of railroad from Victoria to Wellington. No royalty was to be paid on any of the timber, under terms of the grant, nor were any of the lands to be taxed until used for other than railway purposes or sold.

According to the evidence given to the commission by B.C. Chief Forester C. D. Orchard, the timber now being cut from the land already sold, if it had been taxable at current rates, would pay about $800,000 a year to the B.C. Treasury.

H. W. Davey, counsel to the commission, said that in his opinion the Crown could, within the terms of the agreement, impose a severance tax on the timber when it is cut. This, Mr. Davey said, would be equivalent to royalties. Mr. Davey estimated that such a severance tax on timber still owned by the E. and N. would pay the treasury between $5,000,000 and $9,000,000 in the future.

Mr. McMullen told the commission that since the Canadian Pacific took over the E. and N. the operating revenue has been sufficient to pay operation costs and maintenance. Mr. McMullen estimated before the commission that there is still 5,000,000,000 feet of timber left in the E. and N. belt. Mr. Orchard estimated the amount at 8,000,000,000 feet.

Earlier in the inquiry, when sittings were being held in Victoria, Mr. Davey requested Mr. McMullen to file with the commission a statement of E. and N. timber sales. Mr. McMullen refused, but was later ordered by Commissioner Sloan to produce the detailed figures. These were filed Friday and show the yearly sales and the amounts they brought into the company.

No records are available from 1887 to 1897.

So far this year the E. and N. land department has taken in more money than in any other year. To July 31, with five months of 1944 still to run, according to Mr. McMullen's figures, the company received $1,111,712 for 29,657 acres of land containing 487,300,000 feet of timber. Last year 30,178 acres, containing 414,743,000 feet were sold for $824,819. Only other year, besides 1944, which brought in more than $1,000,000 was 1940, when 38,884 acres, containing 614,333,000 feet of timber were sold for $1,072,478.

Russian Delegation to Peace Conclave Wants 'Big 3' to Form World Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—British, Soviet and U.S. delegates to the Dumbarton Oaks security conference worked today toward agreement—possibly a three-way compromise—on the most effective manner to organize force for suppressing future aggressor nations.

As the historic preliminary talks went into their second week, it was learned two principal ideas have been developed thus far. One is a Russian proposal for an international air corps. The Russian delegation is understood not to be irrevocably committed to creation of such a corps, but is backing it strongly with the argument that it would provide a ready means of striking in any part of the world where trouble threatened.

The U.S. delegation has suggested a plan by which each nation would commit at least a part of its national forces, including air and naval, to be used in accordance with the orders of the international security organization but at the direction of the national governments.

This U.S. plan is understood to be tied in with a general principle that development of the international organization can best be effected along lines of regional responsibility for keeping the peace. By this plan each country agreeing to use force when called on would expect to do so primarily in that part of the world in which its major national interests lie.

There has also been some talk of organizing regional international bodies, subordinate to the world security agency, which would function somewhat in the manner of the Pan-American Union.

So far there is understood to have been agreement of views among the three delegations on the need for forces to be available for international police work in such strength that no threatening aggressor would be able to match them.

Institute Lists Factors for Permanent Peace; Urges Federal War Tax Powers Be Continued

By KAY McINTYRE

CAMP ELPHINSTONE, Howe Sound, B.C. — Permanent peace depends on four factors, according to the final findings of the Public Affairs Institute here. These are:

1. An international organization representing all nations desiring to maintain world peace. Within this body a commonwealth representation through a secretariat is preferred to one of the United Kingdom alone.

2. Government control or ownership of large companies. Monopolies represent irresponsible power and may lead to world cartels.

3. A higher level of popular education, particularly in social responsibility.

4. An enlightened public conscience which can influence the government of Canada thereby strengthening an international police force.

These opinions were reached by close to 150 delegates representing a cross-section of B.C. citizens after a week of lectures and discussions from such authorities as Dr. Melvin Rader of the University of Washington, and Maurice E. Bathurst, legal adviser to the British Embassy at Washington.

FOR UNDERPRIVILEGED NATIONS

It was suggested that Canada's immigration laws be modified by an international board and that immigrants should not be segregated into racial groups. Three ideas for the treatment of underprivileged nations by the Canadian government are:

1. Assistance in rehabilitation.
2. Education fostering democratic government.
3. Long term loans controlled by a world board to prevent money involved being diverted to military purposes.

WORLD BODY FOR AIR

Findings of the Public Affairs Institute stressed the need for education of all Canadians, whether born or naturalized citizens in subjects providing political understanding.

Air traffic, they said, should be regulated by the world body with mapping of air routes and standardization of rules in the hands of this organization.

Concerning racialism the institute agreed that knowledge of another people's art, literature, history and economic situation would promote tolerance.

Extension of the activities of world groups such as the Y.M.C.A., greater exchange of teachers and students and further adult education involving interchange of speakers, writers and artists would help in achieving this goal.

Economic inequalities within the nation should be remedied for in this way insecurity will be done away with as a basis for prejudice. Press, radio and movies, they said, can improve interracial feeling by the uniform treatment of all races.

THINK CANADA WILL YIELD SOVEREIGNTY

Because Canada lacks a strong national policy the Dominion will be ready to surrender necessary sovereignty to an international body, the institute agreed. This lack of a strong policy is due to the French block in Quebec and concentration of financial and political power in the east along with geographic and religious differences.

They recommended that wartime taxation powers of the federal government be continued to save duplication in the collecting machine and to make possible federal assistance to economically depressed areas. On the finding of foreign markets will depend Canada's postwar prosperity, they pointed out, and the Dominion's orientation in achieving these markets will influence the country's domestic policy.

Financiers, farmers, civil servants and war workers were among the western Canadian citizens who attended the Public Affairs Institute.

For instance there was H. E. Meilicke, Vancouver financier, and Stephen Freeman, who owns a farm near Vernon. Helen Fuller, who never missed a discussion group, is an aircraft worker at Boeings, while L. S. Drummond is employed in the Income Tax Branch of the Dominion government.

Mrs. E. A. Brink, who came from Lethbridge, listed her occupation as housewife. Gordon Bertram was one of the dozen students from the University of British Columbia present. A leader in the discussion groups which took as their themes the previous evenings' lectures, was Dr. Elda Lindenfeld, Viennese refugee who escaped from Austria when the Nazis seized that country. She is a practicing psychiatrist in Vancouver, now.

Dr. Frank McNair, who helped compile the institute's findings, is a recent graduate of McGill's medical faculty, and Rev. T. W. Scott is an Anglican clergyman from Vancouver. Representatives of the teaching profession included Evelyn Brown from St. Margaret's School in Victoria, and John Kidd, who teaches at New Westminster.

Dorothy McRobbin took a week's vacation from her work as a telephone operator in Vancouver to attend the Public Affairs Institute. Capt. Allan Ship, whose home is at Caufield, was on furlough from the Canadian army. From Vancouver came Mrs. Gordon Stirrett, housewife, and Max Meyer, accountant, who has made his home there since escaping from Germany by way of England.

Listed as a world traveler and social service worker was Miss A. L. Churchill-Greene whose home is in England, while Ann Meltzer from Vancouver, is a former secretary of the Women's School for Citizenship.

SOVIET CULTURE

If we take religion in terms of conduct the Soviet leaders are part of the human community, according to Dr. Melvin Rader of the University of Washington's department of philosophy.

"Doctrine of the sacredness of the human community and the golden rule exists in all religions," Dr. Rader said during a discussion on the U.S.S.R. in the post-war world. "There must be something to the Soviet's way of life in contrast to the two wars and depression all brought on in 25 years by the western powers.

"We must recognize democracy as a term in a wide sense. Henry Wallace at an address in Madison Square Garden reviewed the progress of democracy in Russsia. He pointed out that the Russian constitution drawn up in 1936 was printed in 16 million copies and discussed everywhere throughout the country. More than 150,000 amendments were proposed and a great many of these adopted. This procedure couldn't take place in a Fascist country.

"Russia's Czarist regime rose to great heights of culture with such writers as Chekhov, Tolstoy and Dostievspreskzy, but this culture was shared by only a few. The Soviets have liquidated illiteracy and now culture is for all. Their greatest achievement is in overcoming persecution of the Jews and minorities.

John Gibbard, chairman of Vancouver's League of Nations Society, said that one of the greatest steps toward a lasting peace was the Moscow Agreement with its four-power declaration by Great Britain, United States, China and the Soviet.

OPPOSED TO AGGRESSION

Outlining Russia's war with Finland, Mr. Gibbard said the Finnish border comes within seven miles of Leningrad. With Mannerheim's friendliness to the Nazis they had no choice but to invade the country.

"They undoubtedly handled a case in a clumsy manner when it should have been stated clearly," he said. "But we must remember they weren't ready for a war with the Nazis when they first invaded Finland.

"As for Russia's occupation of Poland in 1939 the Red Army advanced only as far as the old Curzon line of 1919. Poles in the eastern section which they took numbered only one in 10 with the remainder of the population, made up of White Russians, Liths and Jews.

"Russia has always been against aggression and joined the league to preserve the status quo. She tried to preserve the peace by striving against aggressors in the era between the two wars and to this end made an alliance with France.

"In the case of the Czechs alone the Soviets made 12 direct appeals to England and France. These facts must be known in order to understand what some called the 'great betrayal of 1939.' Actually this was chiefly a trade agreement and the wily Soviets saw to it the Nazis didn't get much.

"Russia didn't trust Allied strategy at this time and she wasn't ready for a war with the Nazis. It was a fine outcome when Mr. Churchill welcomed Russia as an ally against Fascism."

"We were going to get a new furnace, five years ago," she told her neighbour; "but we didn't. Now one of the old grates keeps slipping. What'll happen if my husband really shakes that grate, I shudder to think."

Surveys made on post-war purchases show that more than 50,000 Canadian householders need new heating units urgently.

You'll want to get the best possible post-war heating. So it's bound to cost considerable money. Don't leave the gathering of this until the last moment.

Attempt On Life of De Gaulle Fails, As Bullets Fly In Paris

PARIS (AP) — A simple low mass was said before not more than 200 persons Sunday morning in the venerable 12th century Notre Dame Cathedral while outside tanks snarled by and trucks raced about with armed French partisans.

The priests had feared to hold a grand service of thanksgiving because that would have brought thousands there as targets for German snipers and French traitors still holding out in that area.

An attempt was made on the life of Gen de Gaulle Saturday as he sat in the red and gilt chair reserved for the French head of state attending the service. A shot was fired down from the twin spires of the cathedral and French partisans, fire rang back.

Earlier Saturday Gen. de Gaulle had escaped death or injury and thousands of partisans were thrown into panic as the French capital's great liberation parade broke up in wild flurries of gunfire along the four-mile line of march. Several spectators were killed and dozens were wounded.

A few moments before these people had cheered Gen de Gaulle with a thunderous ovation as he sped along the parade route at a 40-mile-an-hour clip. He was preceded by an armored motorcycle guard and followed by French light tanks and heavily-armored scout cars.

Farmers Support Dewey In All Sections But South

By AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

PRINCETON, N.J.—American farmers today represent one of the most strongly Republican groups in the voting population.

In terms of percentage shift away from Roosevelt, their defection since 1940 has been among the largest found for any occupation group in the country. If the presidential election were held today, Thomas E. Dewey could expect to carry the vote of all farmers outside the south by nearly 2-to-1. Southern States' farmers still give a 2-to-1 majority to the President.

Those are the highlights of the Institute's latest balloting among farmers on the Dewey-Roosevelt election. Their reaction, when asked how they would vote if the election were being held at this time, follows:

All Farmers—Dewey 55 per cent, Roosevelt 45 per cent.

Mid-west Farmers—Dewey 62 per cent, Roosevelt 38 per cent.

Southern Farmers—Dewey 34 per cent, Roosevelt 66 per cent.

The trend of farm sentiment over the last eight years is shown in the following table. The percentages are given in terms of the vote for Roosevelt:

	P.C. for Roosevelt 1936	1940	Today
Mid-west Farmers	56	46	38
All farmers	59	54	45

Gen. Hertzberg To Leave R.M.C.

OTTAWA (AP)—Maj.-Gen. H. F. H. Hertzberg of Toronto, commandant of Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., will relinquish his post Sept. 3 when he reaches his 60th birthday, defence headquarters announce. He first will proceed on leave, pending retirement from the army.

Gen. Hertzberg, appointed commandant of the R.M.C., July 6, 1940, will be succeeded by Brig. D. G. Cunningham, Kingston, who was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for devotion to duty and coolness under fire during the raid on Dieppe in 1942.

Gen. Hertzberg began his military career in January, 1905, when gazetted a lieutenant in the Canadian militia. He served throughout the last war with the engineers, being awarded the Military Cross and the Distinguished Service Order. He was made a commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

He commanded the 1st Canadian Divisional Engineers, and from June, 1918, until March, 1919, commanded the 3rd Engineer Brigade. He became a colonel in July, 1918; brigadier in January, 1934, and major-general in December, 1938.

Petain, Laval Taken From Paris Before Surrender

By DON WHITEHEAD

PARIS (AP)—Marshal Henri Petain, Pierre Laval and Edouard Herriot, former Premier of the Republic, were arrested by the Gestapo and taken to Gemany a few days before the Allied forces entered Paris.

Before he left, Petain sent a clandestine message to the people of France, urging them to unite and asserting all he had submitted to had been for their welfare.

The 88-year-old Chief of Staff said in his message he knew he would be arrested, and on Aug. 20, five days before Allied troops entered Paris, he was taken to Belfort near the Swiss frontier and then to Germany.

LAVAL ARRANGED ARRESTS?

Many Parisians are whispering Laval arranged the arrests of Petain and Herriot and then his own arrest in a deal with his German masters which would prevent the Allies from getting custody of Petain and Herriot. At the same time, he was said to have tried to make it appear to his countrymen he had not left Paris voluntarily as the Allied troops drew near.

Petain was taken into custody by an official of the German embassy, but he sent this message before leaving:

"Frenchmen, when this message reaches you I shall no longer be free.

"In the extreme condition that I now find myself, I have nothing to reveal to you except the simple confirmation of what has motivated my conduct for the past four years.

"Having decided to remain among you I have tried day by day to find the best way to serve the permanent interests of France loyally and with compromise.

FROM WORST

"I had but one object—to protect you from the worst.

"All that I have done and all that I have accepted, consented to or submitted to whether willingly or by force, has been solely for your welfare, because if I could not be your sword I wanted to be your shield."

Petain continued:

"Under certain circumstances my words and my acts must have surprised you. You must realize that they have hurt me more than you can possibly imagine.

"I have suffered for you and with you, and I have marshalled all of my forces against what is menacing you. I have shielded you from certain perils. However, there were some, alas, that I could not prevent.

"Again once more I advise you to unite.

"It is not difficult to do one's duty, even though it sometimes is hard to recognize it. Yours is simple. Unite with those who will give you a guarantee to lead you along the road of honor and order.

"Order must reign. And because I represent order legitimately, I remain your chief. Obey me and obey those who will bring you words of social peace without which order cannot be reestablished."

Pope Urges London Bear Up Under Heavy Trials

LONDON (CP) — Pope Pius XII has appealed to the people of London to bear their trials with fortitude and with "Christian sentiments of forgiveness, charity and mercy, so that God may reward what the world will admire—an example of magnanimity inspired by the spirit of Christ's Gospel."

The Pontiff's message was brought to London by Msgr. Bernard Griffin, Archbishop of Westminster, who recently returned from a visit to the Vatican and the Italian battlefront.

"You and yourselves, beloved children," the Pope said, "were not the least of our anxieties. For you, yes, you also, have had to pass through black days in this most terrible of all wars, and those days are still with you.

"We have sympathized deeply with your affliction and when destruction and death were among you we prayed for you daily and hourly. . . .

"Our lively hope and our confident conviction is that you will work toward realization of universal harmony in Christ while in word and act, through prayer and personal sacrifice and the shining example of a sincere Christian life, you help those millions of noble souls who are your separated brethren to return to the fold and so make your contribution toward the establishment on earth of the reign of Christ, the Prince of Peace."

U-boat Plastered By Nanaimo Pilot

OTTAWA (CP)—The crew of "L for London," Wellington bomber attached to the R.C.A.F. Demon Squadron of Coastal Command, attacked a German submarine in the Bay of Biscay recently and circled the area long after it had submerged but saw no trace of it, the R.C.A.F. announced.

"The minute I saw it I knew it was a Jerry so we got ready for an immediate attack," said the pilot, FO. Fred Foster, 21, former Nanaimo, V.I., bank clerk, who was on his 39th patrol.

The rear gunner scored repeated hits as the plane passed over the sub's conning tower. He fired 400 rounds.

The U-boat stopped, remained surfaced for 10 minutes and opened fire in an attempt to shoot the Wellington out of the sky. Foster took evasive action and kept his plane from being hit.

Some hours later when the aircraft's limit of endurance had been reached, markers were dropped and the crew set course for England.

Foster won his wings at No. 3 S.F.T.S., Calgary.

U.S. Bombers Collide; 14 Crew, 2 Others Die

LONDON (CP)—Fourteen U.S. airmen and two civilians, a woman and a child, were killed Saturday when two U.S. heavy bombers collided over Hitchin, Hertfordshire.

One plane exploded in the air, the other crashed. Four of the crew escaped by parachute. The two civilians were killed, and two others were injured when a bomb from one plane fell into a bungalow.

Drew Makes Plans For Servicemen

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Drew of Ontario is in England to "make arrangements in connection with the rehabilitation and hospitalization of the members of the armed forces from Ontario," Acting Premier Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, said in a statement issued at the week-end in connection with the Premier's arrival in London Saturday.

"Very considerable difficulty has been experienced in carrying out the rehabilitation program and it was considered essential that arrangements be made in England so that all wounded or other members of the armed forces coming back to this province would have adequate information as to the rehabilitation opportunities open to them," said the statement.

"Arrangements are also to be made for closer contact with hospital cases. The Ontario government intends to take whatever steps are necessary to assure assistance and proper convalescent treatment for all those returning to Ontario."

In London Saturday the Premier said his overseas visit would last about two weeks and that he planned a tour of Canadian army hospitals in England.

In addition to making arrangements for taking care of cases in which Ontario has direct interest, the Premier also will hold conferences with British officials on Ontario trade affairs.

Versailles Palace Needs Repairs

VERSAILLES (AP) — The beautiful Versailles Palace, where the 1919 peace was signed, is a picture of neglect today with its classic gardens overgrown with weeds, but structurally intact.

The Germans did not molest the palace, despite Hitler's vehemence at the "dictates of Versailles," but it is run down and its classic halls are badly in need of repair.

Earlier reports that the west wing had burned proved untrue.

6-Acre Bush Fire

A bush fire on Munns Road, near Prospect Lake Road, breaking out at 5 Saturday afternoon, kept Saanich firemen out, in two shifts, until noon Sunday, and burned over six acres of land. The fire, fanned by a moderate wind, endangered one house, but was controlled by firemen a little over an hour after their arrival. Remainder of the time was spent by the firemen in guarding against further spreading and in completely extinguishing the fire.

26 Die In Crash

LONDON (CP) — Twenty-six persons were killed early today when a large air transport crashed into a house near the trans-Atlantic military air base at Prestwick, Scotland.

The dead include seven of the plane crew, 14 passengers and five occupants of the house, which was demolished.

Soldiers and civil defence workers labored through the darkness to recover bodies from the wreckage.

It was the second time within a week that a plane had crashed on a building. Last Wednesday 59 people were killed or died as a result of injuries when a U.S. bomber plunged on a schoolhouse at Freckleton, Lancashire.

Oil's Contribution to Man

Shown above is a fractionating tower of a modern crude oil refining unit at Imperial Oil's Sarnia, Ontario, Refinery. This one unit has a capacity of 26,000 barrels a day!

In 1859 a group of far-sighted men drilled down into the earth near Titusville, Pennsylvania. At a little over sixty-nine feet, their drill struck oil . . . and thus, in the little wooden shacks that sheltered the pioneer Drake Well, the petroleum industry was born.

Through eighty-five years of progress, new generations of oil men have pushed their drills almost five miles down below the surface, stepped up petroleum production from forty to over 4,500,000 barrels a day on this continent. And on this tidal wave of "liquid power" rich gifts have floated to mankind . . . the modern car, truck and airplane . . . oil-heated homes and oil-driven ships . . . the farmer's tractor . . . asphalt roads that unite the nation . . . lubricants and other petroleum products that have enabled industry to produce better goods at lower cost, for more people. Today, as essential "ammunition" on our fighting fronts, petroleum is making its finest gift—victory in a bitter war to preserve our way of life and ensure our future.

As Canada's pioneer and leader in the field of petroleum, Imperial Oil Limited has contributed abundantly to the achievements of the past—is giving its best and utmost to the war job of today. Tomorrow, when peace comes, Imperial Oil service station men will again speed the motorist happily along the highway. Imperial Oil research workers will turn their inventive skill from tasks of war to problems of peacetime progress. The Imperial Oil geologists, engineers and drillers who brought Norman Wells and Turner Valley into being will continue to search for the oil resources necessary to our further progress.

MILKING ONTARIO

MANITOBA'S ABLE PREMIER GARSON spoke for all western Canada when he challenged before the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association convention at Winnipeg the basis of Premier Drew's arguments that his province of Ontario was being milked through taxation to furnish social and other public services to other parts of Canada.

Mr. Drew, among many things, said that $100,000,000 out of the $200,000,000 initial annual cost of family allowances would come out of the pockets of the people of Ontario. Mr. Garson replied that his figure purporting to show Ontario paying 50 per cent of the total was grossly misleading. It includes federal taxes of all kinds paid into the offices of the federal government in Ontario—customs duties, excise taxes, sales taxes. All of these are written into the cost of goods and services which Ontario concerns sell in western Canada and in the Maritimes and are paid for by the taxpayers in those parts of Canada.

"Premier Drew's figure," said Mr. Garson, "includes also all of the income taxes paid upon all the profits made by the great oil, milling, packing, manufacturing, insurance, trust, loan, implement and mercantile companies and chartered banks. Nearly all these concerns have their head offices in Ontario or Quebec, and have branches in the West and in the Maritimes. In these branches profits are made, upon which these corporations pay income tax to the Dominion government, not in the provinces in which these profits are earned, but in the federal tax districts in Ontario and Quebec, in which the head offices of these great companies are located.

"Therefore, it is not correct to say that the people of Ontario pay as much as 50 per cent, or that the people of Quebec pay as much as 33 per cent of the national revenue, or that the people of the prairie provinces pay as little as 7 per cent of the national revenue."

On Mr. Drew's own figures, Mr. Garson said, Quebec would pay 33 per cent and get back 32 per cent of the nation's family allowances. Western Canada would pay between 6 and 7 per cent and receive back 20 per cent, and the Maritimes pay less than 4 per cent and receive 6 per cent. Mr. Drew, therefore, in launching his assault aimed chiefly at Quebec, has hit instead the western provinces and the Maritimes, which are indirectly paying much of the tax total for which Ontario now claims sole credit.

TWO TRAITORS—ONE PATRIOT

EARLY LAST WEEK THE GERMANS arrested Petain and Laval, took them to Belfort, near the Swiss border, and thence to the Reich. Accompanying them, too, was that great liberal patriot and classicist, former Premier Edouard Herriot, who had stoutly defied the Nazis in every conceivable manner since the occupation began. There is probably much to support the view, moreover, that Laval "arranged" the arrest of Petain and Herriot in the hope that he might obtain preferential treatment for himself. Although one finds it difficult to believe that Hitler and his gang have any further interest in either the swarthy traitor or the dotard Marshal. What may be in store for the man whom all Frenchmen honor, by the way, is unpleasant to contemplate.

Perhaps the historian may discover some extenuating circumstance that will make his chapter on the life and works of Petain less objectionable than his subject's conduct during the last four years would seem to warrant. Nothing he will be able to write from the more orderly perspective of the future, however, will alter the fact that the man who asked the Germans for an armistice on June 17, 1940, was reacting to that inherent defeatist complex which almost dominated his action even when his valorous troops were saving the day at Verdun in the spring of 1916. But the text of his farewell message to the French people will assuredly produce a strange feeling in the stomach of the ultimate reporter when he dissects it in the light of history.

Petain wails to his compatriots that as he could not be their sword he "wanted to be their shield," that all he had submitted to "had been for their welfare," and that he tried "to protect them from the worst." How much worse the last four years could have been for the people of France will provide another text upon which the historian may or may not care to dwell. While time may be a great healer, and though the former head of the Vichy regime may not return to his native land, General Charles de Gaulle will never forget that Marshal Henri Philippe Benoni Omer Joseph Petain always believed in a German victory.

SEATTLE NOT WAITING

IN THE CURRENT ISSUE OF OUR neighbor's premier commercial journal, Business Week, is a paragraph which should interest all who are looking forward to the day when the four civic entities of this community make up their minds to step into the postwar world as the municipality of Greater Victoria. Here is the extract from the New York weekly:

"The first major city on the Pacific Coast to attempt legally to 'bust its seams' since Pearl Harbor is Seattle, Wash. Like all coast cities with growing pains caused by the influx of war workers and a normal population growth, Seattle now proposes its largest territorial annexation since 1907. Petitions are being circulated to bring a five-square-mile area adjoining the city's northerly line within the corporate boundaries. Seattle's present area is 72.8 square miles. The war has forced new residents to seek homes outside the city and has driven some old residents who seek more rest and quiet to new residences in the outlying areas. Now they want the police and fire protection that can come only to legal residents of the city."

We made mention in these columns last February, on Seattle's 92nd birthday, that the foundations of what now is the 26th largest city in the United States were laid on Feb. 15, 1852, by three men who arrived in a rowboat and took up claims of 320 acres apiece—all of them beginning at the waterfront. One ran northward from the present Pioneer Place; the second north of that, embracing today's Pike Street area; and the third still farther to the north, in the section known later as Belltown.

While those three original claim-stakers were setting their sights and strengthening their hopes on Puget Sound 92 years ago, the men who laid the foundations for this community were preparing to celebrate the completion of the first decade of what was destined to become the capital city of the Province of British Columbia. In both instances, so to speak, it was a case of starting from scratch; but with an important difference: The pioneers who selected this site on Vancouver Island had the financial resources and the prestige of a wealthy trading company behind them. Brawn and vision were the chief working tools of the three pioneers who literally dug the foundations on which our neighbor's great northwestern metropolis now rests. Yet the population of Victoria city proper is less than 45,000; the city of Seattle boasts approximately 500,000.

We repeat, therefore, that the examination of amalgamation potentials of this community—plus the useful educational campaign which the City Council approved last week—should go forward with the minimum delay. Until practical results are achieved along these lines, of course, all reference works will continue to list Victoria as a city of less than 50,000! No insuperable obstacle stands in the way of doubling this type of advertising appeal to business enterprise and prospective residents.

'ALL ALLIED SOLDIERS'

CANADIAN, BRITISH AND AMERICAN newspapers have been criticized for "playing up" the part of the troops from their own country in the operations in France and failing to do full justice to the accomplishments of the forces of the other members of the United Nations.

Playing up the gallant performances of our own men, in whom our chief personal interest must naturally centre, is surely not to be deplored. Unfortunately, sometimes the effect may be to detract from the equally gallant performances of our Allies. However, there is a limit to such partiality for one's own nationals, and this limit is reached when it does actual hurt to the spirit of teamwork.

A high-ranking officer in General Eisenhower's command has warned of this limit in pointing to the tendency of correspondents, both British and American, to compare gains made by the British and American armies in the French campaign. "There is no nationality over there," he said. "We are all Allied soldiers. We do not differentiate a bit in our attacks, whether they are by British or American troops." Team spirit requires that we at home forego nationality in these affairs, just as they are doing over there.

IS THERE A 'V-3'?

WHAT THE GERMANS HAVE ADVERTised as the "V-2" reprisal weapon apparently has not plagued London or any other part of Britain so far. And for 40 hours prior to yesterday none of the "V-1" type had fallen. Whether the longest respite since the campaign of frightfulness began had any special significance is highly conjectural. Londoners had hoped the Allied advance toward the Calais area was obliging abandonment of some of the enemy's launching platforms. This may be so to a small degree. In that case the much-heralded super-robot, the "V-3"—a gas-filled flying bomb of horrible possibilities—may have to remain Hitler's final but non-operative secret weapon.

But Britons probably are preparing for and expecting the worst the Fuehrer can unleash—even though use of the advertised gas bomb will depend upon the enemy's ability to hang on to his launching platforms at those points on the French coast nearest to England. And it would seem almost fantastic to suppose that Hitler yet understands British psychology well enough to realize that the more diabolical the technique he employs the grimmer will be the British resolve to exact commensurate retribution when the time for a final accounting arrives. The rat in the corner, of course, is not likely to be a slave to logic.

In the event of the Fuehrer ordering the use of gas against the civilian population, however, it could at best be only limited in scale as far as Britain is concerned. He cannot afford to divert much of what is left of the Luftwaffe for this purpose. On the other hand, if Hitler's fanaticism should run away with the remnant of his doubtful sanity, the explosion of the first "V-3" would be the signal for Allied reprisals of a magnitude and thoroughness that would smother much of the Reich in short order. Both Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt issued their warnings on this score many months ago. They were in dead earnest.

The most becoming rouge on the market today is healthful food and plenty of good exercise.

London Shelters

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Victoria Times Correspondent

LONDON.

—AND SO TO BED WITH 8,000

EVERY POSSIBLE measure has been taken by authorities to make London's deep shelters—five are now open to the public—as comfortable as possible under existing conditions. About the only differences between these modern catacombs and those in which the early Christians sought refuge from persecution is that they are air-conditioned and possess amenities which the latter certainly did not have. But you could stretch the comparison a little further and imagine that the refugees of bygone centuries must have felt somewhat the same sense of security and safety reflected on the faces of today's shelterers from the perils of Hitler's robot bombs.

To reach a shelter you walk down 288 winding, shining stairs to the first level, 180 feet underground. You are greeted with a blast of music from one of the many loudspeakers and received by a motherly woman warden with "New Tube Shelter" in yellow lettering on the breast-pocket of her natty navy blue uniform. At 10 p.m. families were beginning to settle while the children were darting in and out of the bags playing tag.

A SHELTER SLEEPS 8,000

THERE ARE 8,000 bunks to a shelter. The shelter is divided into 16 sections on two levels, each section containing 500 bunks, all numbered. Sections in the shelter I visited bore the name of a well-known English painter. Families occupying six bunks can let down dividing partitions making for a little more privacy, so dear to the British heart. Some shelterers who have now been underground a couple of weeks have even fixed up their quarters with gay chintz curtains.

There are eight canteens where coffee, tea, cocoa, and hot soup as well as sandwiches and cake can be bought at the nominal flat rate of twopence (5 cents), the whole affair being nonprofit-making.

Washing facilities and lavatories are excellent. There is no provision, however, for hot water or heating. A daily laundry service takes care of blankets, sheets and slips at very small cost. There is also a disinfecting station for bedding.

Twenty-four charwomen vacuum-clean the place every day. Both they and the other employees, as well as the voluntary workers—300 in all—have a priority right to sleep there.

There is a doctor, a sick bay, and two nurses in attendance on each level.

INTRODUCING MR. F. COPLAND

A CENTRAL control room under direction of Mr. F. Copland issues a stream of instructions and advice over the loud-speaker—a gift of the American Air Raid Relief. Mr. Copland served in the International Brigade in Spain as a colonel and at the outbreak of war toured the country lecturing to wardens on bombing. He thereafter joined the Civil Defence.

In time, Mr. Copeland said, he hoped to install separate bays for the children, where they could play until bedtime and all sleep together.

The shelters open at 6 p.m., close at 10.30, and lights are dimmed at 11 p.m. Late workers have special passes. Everybody must be out before 7.15 a.m. An exit connects with the "tube" stations, which means that there is no need to climb the 288 stairs. The elevator, by the way, is exclusively reserved for the aged and infirm, the blind and expectant mothers.

London has shelter accommodations for 7,250,000 people. The night population is estimated at 6,750,000, including private shelters.

Tickets for shelters must be obtained from local authorities, and deep-shelter users must justify their request. There are still hundreds of people, however, who every night invade the underground railway stations as they did in the blitz.

HISTORIC ANNIVERSARIES

Demarat Chandoz writes that he was very interested in Donald A. Fraser's article in the Times about Wolfe and the fall of Quebec, Sept. 13, 1759.

"It has always surprised me," he said, "that this famous date, which was surely the birthday of British Canada is nowhere celebrated and if I recall corectly that patriotic society, the I.O.D.E., do not mark it in any way.

"There must be a reason. I wonder if you could enlighten us by a letter to the Times, which might be the means of bringing out some items of interest in this connection."

WORDS OF O CANADA

Mrs. W. C. Lynch in Toronto Star

Confusion over words where O Canada is being sung in public gatherings could be avoided if adults would take a few moments to learn the words which are being sung by most of the schoolchildren throughout the Dominion. They can be found in "The Canadian Song Book," edited by Sir Ernest MacMillan, published by J. M. Dent Ltd. This first verse goes as follows:

"O Canada, our home and native land.
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
Thou true North, strong and free;
And stand on guard, O Canada,
Stand aye on guard for thee."

Refrain:

"O Canada! O Canada!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee."

"To cultivate the sense of the beautiful is one of the most effectual ways of cultivating an appreciation of the divine goodness."—Bovee.

News Analysis—The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The great military trap continues to close with accelerated speed about the desperate Germans crushing in toward the doomed Reich both from the freshly erupting Russian front and from the speeding armored columns of the United Nations in the west.

The only question that remains is how long the already beaten Nazis can stand off utter collapse.

TURNING MOVEMENT

There are three major Allied operations which are especially worth watching. These are the great northward turning movement growing out of the battle of the Seine and Paris, the sensational Russian drive into Romania, and the fresh assault against the Vistula line north of Warsaw by the Red Army.

Allied Supreme Headquarters confirm that U.S. troops east of Paris have swung northward and reached the Marne River — famous battlefield of two great wars. This means that the western Allies are well set to carry out a flanking movement against the Germans north of the Seine River and along the coast of the English Channel.

The Hitlerites must begin their great withdrawal northward toward Belgium and their own frontier quickly or face disaster for the already greatly weakened forces of their 15th Army which is holding along the line of the Seine and guarding the Channel coast opposite England. As a matter of fact, disaster hangs over them anyway, for in their retreat they cannot escape the eagle eye of the vast Allied airfleet which will chop them to pieces by scores of thousands as they flee.

TAKE GATEWAY

The situation in the eastern theatre presents momentous possibilities. The terrific Russian drive into Romania has already smashed the defences of the famous Galati Gap, which is the gateway into the rolling plains of the Danube basin. This gap is about 50 miles wide and lies between the expansive estuary of the Danube, with its many mouths, and the Carpathian Mountains.

Equally important is word that the Russians again are smashing at the Vistula front north of Warsaw with the idea of flanking the Polish capital. That city is the anchor of this powerful defensive line to which the Nazis are clinging for dear life.

THE NURSES MARRY

W. L. Clark in Windsor Star

Of 300 Canadian nurses to go to South Africa, 50 have already married South Africans and many of the others are engaged to marry and settle down in South Africa. It isn't only the Canadian men overseas who marry. Many of the Canadian girls in Great Britain have married there, while many Canadian girls right at home have married English, Scottish, Irish, Welsh, Australian or New Zealand boys and plan to go to those countries to live after the war.

Usual Quarantine For City Schools

Usual regulations regarding quarantine for students entering city schools from points outside the province will be observed this year, Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, said today.

Such students, or those of local origin who have spent vacations outside B.C., are required to be resident here at least two weeks before they attend classes.

The provincial health picture was such, Dr. Felton said, no special quarantines would be required for people bringing school-age children to Victoria from other B.C. points.

Two years ago an outbreak of poliomyelitis required more stringent intra-provincial regulations.

Judges Selected For Saanich Fair

Plans are near completion for the 78th annual fall fair of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Association and this year it will be held on Labor Day in the Agricultural Hall and grounds on East Saanich Road.

J. E. Woods, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm, will judge the flower entries, which must be placed in position before 9 a.m. Labor Day.

A good showing of work from north and south Saanich schools is anticipated, and A. Wilfred Johns will judge the entries Sept. 2.

Mrs. K. McMurdo of Ganges will judge the jams and bottled fruits. Household arts section will be under the convenership of Mrs. A. G. Smith and will be judged by Mrs. S. W. Raven of Victoria.

An automobile parking field, comprising nearly three acres, has recently been graded at the fair grounds and will be ready for the fair.

"During the past few years parking of visitors' cars on fair day has constituted a problem, but this has now been solved by the acquisition of the new parking ground," Stuart G. Stoddart, secretary-treasurer of the fair association, said today.

Greater Victoria Urged By Labor

By unanimous resolution Sunday, the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference endorsed the move to establish a Greater Victoria through amalgamation of the four municipalities in the area.

The issue was raised by Charles Chivers, president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, who noted such action would assist in crystalizing plans for postwar work. Several delegates participated in the discussion which ended with the passage of the resolution.

The conference urged continuance of efforts to secure a civic arena here. The scheme, delegates noted, had received support of unions representing thousands of workers as well as other citizens.

Progress made by the joint labor-veterans consultative council was outlined by G. A. Wilkinson, who found conference support for veterans' action to secure reclassification of lighthouse keepers and moves to establish convalescent homes for "burned-out" veterans.

R. Noble outlined a program which would provide work here in construction of ships to be used on the coast runs.

CHECK RESTAURANTS

C. W. Marshall requested delegates noticing violation of restaurant regulations to report infractions without delay. Action would be taken against offenders, he said.

Exceptionally good response to the rehabilitation conference called for Oct. 14 and 15 was reported by D. E. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee. A resolutions committee composed of H. Yetman, R. Simmons, C. Chivers, Wm. White, R. F. Williams, S. Evans, Wm. Caird, and Wm. Shaw was appointed, while another, to make arrangements for the conference was named as follows: C. W. Marshall, G. A. Wilkinson, R. Williams and Mr. Fitzgerald.

Earlier Mr. Fitzgerald was elected vice-chairman of the joint labor conference, replacing Hugh Allison who is leaving for Vancouver to continue organization work for the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees in Vancouver.

R. Noble was named delegate to a film board meeting in Vancouver next Wednesday and F. Swain and G. Robson were seated as delegates from painters and electricians unions.

Want Housing Plan For Service Families

Moves proceeded on two fronts today to secure adequate accommodation for dependents of servicemen here.

The Victoria and District Zone Council, Canadian Legion, urged the city by letter today to follow the course suggested by W. C. Fyfe to throw open for rent certain dwellings allegedly held empty by owners wishing to make a quick, advantageous sale.

The proposal, advanced by Mr. Fyfe last week, suggested the city apply for enforcement of a Wartime Prices and Trade Board order which would compel owners of homes to make them available for rent after they had been vacant for three months.

Endorsing the suggestion, the Legion letter said: "The zone council is of the opinion that the problem (housing scarcity) is not entirely one of shortage of actual buildings, but is one artificially created . . ."

The zone council office was frequented by harassed dependents without sufficient funds to purchase homes and secure immediate tenancy, the letter said.

In other quarters a responsible women's organization was working to present an appeal to the City Council for better housing accommodation for families of servicemen in the city. It was believed the plan might entail an invitation to federal authorities to establish a home-building scheme similar to that supported in Vancouver. The definite proposals are expected to reach the City Hall this week.

TREATS HER LIKE BABY

A girl said to me the other day: "I am 20 years old. I am a college graduate. I have a good job and am self-supporting. I am not a case of arrested development, yet my mother treats me exactly as if I were a feeble-minded infant. She tells me what I shall wear, what I shall eat, where I shall go and to be sure to be home by 10 o'clock at night. And she feels that she has a perfect right to read my letters and listen in on my telephone calls.

MUST BE WATCHED

"This endless supervision over my every act isn't because she suspects me of having any wild impulses or any yearning for the primrose path. It is simply because she has never seen me as an intelligent adult. To her I am still a little baby girl who will make herself sick on lollipops if she isn't watched and who must not be permitted to play with the naughty little boy next door.

"One of the major grievances of mothers nowadays is that their daughters don't want to live at home. As soon as they finish school, they get a job. They insist in going off and setting up a little two-by-four apartment with some other girl, where they have to sleep on a bumpy couch and eat the messes they cook themselves after they come home from a hard day's work. Mother can't understand it and she fears the worst.

"But her Sally hasn't left home to become a wild woman. She has left home to get away from Mother's babying and because she can't stand any longer being told what to do and what not to do, and because she is tired of having to have an argument with Mother every time she goes out of the house about where she is going, whom she is going with and when is she coming home. Funny, isn't it, that mothers never realize that their daughters grow up and that they want to be treated as grownups?"

Sale of Heather Aids I.O.D.E.

Saturday was the 30th anniversary of Heather Day, the day on which members of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., marked the presentation of each soldier of the first overseas contingent leaving Victoria for the First Great War with a sprig of heather.

Although the chapter has been unab to hold the usual tag day commemorating the date, heather is being sold at various stores throughout the city. No price is placed on the heather, but donations received are used for the comforts and war work of the services and to aid veterans of both wars.

George Fraser of Ucluelet, who supplied the heather from his garden for many years without charge, passed away last year. This year the Red Cross Unit at Ucluelet gathered the heather and forwarded it to Victoria in time for the sale this week.

Weddings

DYE—BOKER

Canon H. V. Hitchcox performed the marriage ceremony Saturday evening in St. Michael's and All Angels' Church, Royal Oak, uniting Anne, daughter of Mr. Boker, Kelowna, and Earle Verne Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dye, Old West Road, Saanich.

The bride chose an afternoon frock of pink sheer featuring a sweetheart neckline, with a tiny flower hat and a matching shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents where a wedding cake made and decorated by Mrs. Philip Dye, sister-in-law of the groom, centred the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Dye left for a honeymoon to be spent motoring up-island, the bride wearing a blue suit with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mrs. Dye will reside in Victoria when the groom rejoins his ship in the east.

MARKHAM—STEWART

Sgt. Brian Wilton Markham, R.C.A.F., and his bride, the former Verna June Stewart, have taken up residence at 111 Gorge Road. Their marriage took place Aug. 19 at St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Winnipeg, when Rev. F. J. Ison performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hart of Winnipeg. The groom is the son of Mrs. E. M. Markham of Vancouver and Maj. Brian W. Markham.

The bride, who was attended by her twin cousins, the Misses Vera and Vivian Hill, chose an ice-white embossed sheer gown over taffeta, fashioned en train with a longwaisted bodice, bracelet-length sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip veil of illusion tulle was held with clusters of Johanna Hill roses and she carried a colonial bouquet of the same flowers showered with white sweet peas.

The bridesmaids wore identical frocks of turquoise tulle over taffeta with self-tone tulle hats, and carried pink roses. WO W. H. Timkins, R.C.A.F., supported the groom and the ushers were LAC. Alfred Hart and Sgt. H. Hutchison, both of the R.C.A.F.

A reception was held at the Green Room, St. Regis Hotel, where the bridal party was assisted in receiving by the bride's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pyne, former Vancouverites, represented the groom's family.

For a honeymoon to the coast, the bride wore a two-piece red and white printed silk crepe frock with a black felt veiled hat.

Saturday, the groom's mother, Mrs. E. M. Markham, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. R. Parkin, entertained in Vancouver at an afternoon and evening reception in honor of the bridal couple.

Social Situations

The Situation: You take two very small children into a restaurant for a meal, and you know that neither of them will eat a whole dinner.

Wrong Way: Order a complete dinner for both and let them eat what they want and leave the rest.

Right Way: Order one dinner for the two and ask for an extra plate, which you can serve yourself, and if you like, order two drinks and two desserts. (In these times of food shortages it is wrong to let food be wasted.)

MATERNITY WARD IN MILITARY HOSPITAL—The early bird may get the worm, but the smart bird gets hospital care when it comes nesting time. The five youngsters of the Ottawa Robin family shown above are receiving expert attention from the hands of Maj. C. D. L. Cromar, R.C.A.M.C., at Rideau Military Hospital, Ottawa. Pa and Ma Robin built their nest on one of the porches of the hospital, and the egg-setting efforts were enthusiastically cheered on by the soldier patients of the institution. So far, five of the six eggs have been hatched, with little "Juniors" popping sprightly into the realm of sunlight and the odor of antiseptic. Maj. Cromar, who originally hails from Aberdeen, Scotland, and who practised at Vermilion, Alta., prior to the war, is floor-pacing worriedly waiting for the sixth shell to crack.

BLACK for WEAR NOW!

We don't quite know why—but it is indisputable that Black is especially de rigeur at this time of year. Perhaps it's as a contrast from the bright colors of summer, or perhaps there is really no reason at all. But sensing that this fashion centre idea would quickly spread to Victoria, we've done our duty in bringing to our patrons a selection of the smartest and loveliest models in Black Crepe — dresses that meet every demand of the lady of Chic.

Comtesse de Suzannet Safe Friends In Victoria Learn

Coincident with the news of the liberation of Paris, friends here have had word from Comtesse de Suzannet, after a silence of more than two years.

A letter from a relative in Lausanne, Switzerland, received recently, was followed by the receipt on Saturday of a 25-word letter from the comtesse herself. Both recorded that she and her eldest daughter, Jacqueline, now Mrs. Maurice Porton D'Ambrecourt, are in Paris, while the younger children, Sybil, Alan, Robert and Lionel, are all at the family's country estate, La Chardiere, in the Vendee, with Mlle. Chapais, their governess, who is now managing the farm.

Comtesse de Suzannet, who is recovering from a serious operation, returned to Paris on her release from imprisonment by the Nazis. She had been confined for eight months for harboring an Allied airman, according to word received some time ago from her eldest son, Roland, then in Casablanca. He escaped from France to Algiers last year and attended a French military college there, graduating with his commission. He is now serving with the Free French forces and is probably in France with the army of liberation.

Comtesse de Suzannet is the widow of Comte Jean de Suzannet. The family lived on Denison Road, Victoria, for 10 years.

In 1935 they returned to their former home in Paris, and in the following year the count was elected to the French Chamber of Deputies.

He was killed in a motor accident while driving to his country home in January, 1938.

The count had a brilliant career in the last war, being a member of Marshal Foch's staff. On his untimely death, Edouard Herriot, former Premier of France, whose whereabouts are causing much speculation today, paid eloquent tribute to Comte de Suzannet's valued services to France.

BRITISH POET FORESAW END OF WAR AND PARLIAMENT OF MAN

Most pictures of Alfred Tennyson show him in his later life, with a bearded face, but we also think of him as he was during the strength of his young manhood. Thomas Carlyle described him as being, at the age of 33, "one of the finest-looking men in the world." He spoke of the poet's "great shock of rough, dark hair" and "laughing, hazel eyes."

Tennyson was born on an August day in 1809, the same year which saw the birth of Abraham Lincoln. He was the son of a clergyman who preached in the county of Lincoln in east-central England. Thus in both the time and the place of his birth he was linked to the babe across the sea who was to become an American President.

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON.

ELAINE TENDED THE WOUNDED LANCELOT.

When only 23 years old, Tennyson became the author of a book. The volume contained "The Lady of Shalott" and several other poems.

In the years which followed, he wrote further volumes. Perhaps most popular of his poems are those which go back to the time of King Arthur and his knights. Many of these are gathered in a book called "Idylls of the King." Tennyson studied the legends about Launcelot, Galahad and other knights of the Round Table, and wove them into verse.

Tennyson lived to the age of 83. Late in his life he accepted the honor of being made a baron, and that is why he is called, at times, "Lord Tennyson." It seems that he took this step only to please his friend Gladstone, the British Prime Minister. He said that he always would be sorry he had lost "the simple name of Alfred Tennyson."

In these times of war, we well may read Tennyson's poem, "Locksley Hall," in which he wrote:

"For I dipt into the future, far as human eyes could see,
"Saw the Vision of the world and all the wonder that would be;
"Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails,
"Pilots of the purple twilight, dropping down with costly bales;
Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue
Till the war drum throbbed no longer and the battle flags were furled
In the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the World."

THE Home Nurse

ELDERLY PERSON REQUIRES WARM, EVEN TEMPERATURE

By MARY BEARD
Director, Nursing Service, Red Cross

When it becomes necessary for an old persons to share the home of some member of his family, every effort should be made to keep him as independent as conditions will permit. If it can be arranged for him to have his own furniture, particularly his bed and favorite chair, it will go far toward keeping him content. He should feel free to spend his time with the family, or to retire to the quiet of his own room when he wishes.

An old person is usually very sensitive to cold, because as he becomes less active the circulation of the blood is less vigorous. If the temperature of the room can be maintained at from 70 to 75 degrees he is less likely to feel the cold than if it is allowed to run to extremes of high or low. While a well-ventilated room is desirable it should not be made an issue if there are objections to open windows or window ventilators.

HOT FOOT BATH HELPS

Warm underclothing, wool stockings and extra wraps are nearly always essential to the comfort of the aged, even in mild weather. Poor circulation, particularly at night, often causes cramps in the leg muscles. Keeping the feet warm helps to prevent this annoyance. A hot foot bath at bedtime and the friction of the towel in drying the feet help to increase the circulation and give a sensation of warmth. Rubbing the body with warm oil has the same effect and also prevents the skin from becoming dry and itchy, which is a common complaint of the aged.

An old person should be permitted to sleep between wool or cotton blankets instead of sheets if it makes him more comfortable. Warm nightclothes (including bedstocks, a hot-water bottle—if necessary—and warm lightweight blankets should be provided for cold weather.

A 75-year-old limestone mine, with some 12,000,000 cubic feet of space, near Atchison, Kans., is proposed for the cold storage of government lard, eggs and other perishables; some refrigeration equipment will be required.

Lassie Cancels Personal Appearance

Lassie's scheduled appearance before the weekly Victoria Youth Commission show at the Cycledrome has had to be canceled, it was stated today by M.G.M. officials.

They regret this very much, but it is necessary to shoot night shots at Christopher Point in order to complete the scenes for the picture, "Son of Lassie," that must be done before the company leaves for Lake Louise and Banff on Tuesday. It is expected that the entire company will be working most of the night.

The players and the director will leave Victoria on the 1.20 boat Tuesday afternoon, and will leave Vancouver Tuesday evening. The crew will pack the equipment and leave on Wednesday's boat.

By working all day Sunday it was possible for the company to get caught up on their shooting schedule so that they could leave as planned Tuesday. They are shooting all day today.

The Youth Commission show will be presented with Jay Merriman, ventriloquist, and Torchy, a professional Cuban dancer, singing and dancing, and a special number by Willard Gerber, who will present a Carman Miranda impersonation.

A Chinese number by Bob Lowe, and an accordion solo will be other selections on the show, to be directed by Margaret McMeeken and Rene Davis. The show starts at 7.45.

Halifax Shipyards Resume Work After Month of Strike

HALIFAX (CP) — Time-clocks clicked and machines hummed for the first time in a month in Halifax's war-vital shipyards this morning as the vanguard of 3,000 striking workers returned to work.

A total of 1,396 men were placed on employment this morning, but shipyards officials predicted it might be a week before the last worker could be taken back and machines again geared to full production. Terms of the agreement signed on Saturday between officials of the Industrial Union Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (C.C.L.) and the federal department of labor included the stipulation workers would be taken on by the company as soon as machinery could be brought back to use.

Company officials said today portable equipment had been damaged by pickets and might take some days to repair. The galvanizing plant will not be ready for production for a week, it was estimated.

Charles Murray, union business agent, said union officials would consult with provincial labor minister L. D. Currie some time today on the terms of the agreement and later hoped to get in touch with the federal department of labor.

Mr. Murray said of a department of 90 men, only eight were working this morning, because "the company has apparently gone back to a peace-time basis" on which workers are on call rather than on full-time employment. Murray said this action was an infringement of the agreement by the company. This would be one of the questions referred to government officials today.

'Don't Trust Axis,' McNaughton Warns

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Warning that the United Nations must be "very careful" for the future not to trust the word of Germany or Japan, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, former commander of the Canadian army overseas, advocates maintenance of an ample force to check future aggression and formation of a new League of Nations "from which the terms of force and war are most strictly excluded."

Addressing a crowd of war veterans and servicemen assembled in Harvey Park Sunday for the 26th annual decoration and memorial ceremonies, Gen. McNaughton said:

"We must be careful for the future that we do not trust the word of Germany or Japan. Their peoples are criminal and a continuing menace to all the principles of justice and right to which we hold.

"Therefore, we and those who think with us, must keep an ample force at instant readiness to check their possible outbreak against our peaceful progress."

$3,075 Worth of Tuna For 3 Days' Fishing

Rosalie I, 38-foot troller skippered by her owner, Norman Ryall, which came into Victoria Aug. 17 with a 9,000-pound catch of tuna, after eight days out, is reported to have arived with a record catch in Vancouver after only five days out, of which only three were spent in actual fishing.

According to the report, Skipper Ryall brought in 17,200 pounds of tuna valued at $3,075. Nearly 75 per cent of his last catch was taken during two half days of operation. His hold filled, Ryall piled the tuna on deck to accommodate his amazing catch.

Victoria Proves Beautiful Location, Says Movie Director

By HELEN TOOTH

Victoria is easily the most beautiful location on which he has had to work since he started directing motion pictures in 1937, S. Sylvan Simon, director of "Son of Lassie," scenes of which are being filmed at Christopher Point and Pat Bay, said today.

Mr. Simon feels that he is qualified to compare scenic locations because during the comparatively short time that he has been directing pictures, he has worked on locations all over, from New York to the southern California coast.

His present trip is also the longest location trip that he has taken to date; as he will be spending seven weeks in Canada. He and the company, including the famous dog, Lassie, Peter Lawford, Robert Lewis, Leon Ames, and Fay Helm have been in Victoria for nearly four weeks shooting scenes that are supposed to be laid in an air field in England, and on the rugged coast of Norway.

From here they go on to Banff and Lake Louise for the final shooting of the picture. Prior to coming to Victoria some scenes were taken at Jacksonville, Wyoming.

Mr. Simon has won fame as being one of the youngest top-notch directors in Hollywood, and also as a director who puts authenticity above all else. No detail is too much trouble for him, just as long as it is right when the picture is finished.

STARTED TO BE LAWYER

He started out in life to be a lawyer and took his education at the University of Michigan and Columbia Law School. However, while a student he became interested in dramatics and was prominent as a director at both universities. When he had completed his university work, instead of launching forth in a law career he began haunting New York theatrical offices and in 1934 directed his first stage play.

He went to Hollywood in 1937 where his success has been swift and sure. His first company was Universal, but Mervyn LeRoy spotted his work on a test run and persuaded him to transfer to M.G.M.

He particularly likes to work with young actors and actresses and will spend an endless amount of time helping them with their work. He was mainly instrumental in bringing Lana Turner to stardom, as he directed her in the three musicals that put her in the top rank, "These Glamour Girls," "Dancing Co-Eds," and "Two Girls on Broadway."

He has written seven books, most of them outlining techniques of motion picture-acting for younger people. Another help for the younger players that he inaugurated was the "Players' Lab," in which they take well known Broadway plays, rehearse them and then play them before different army camps. As well as providing entertainment for the men in the forces, it also gives the young actors excellent experience.

SEES LAWFORD AS STAR

Mr. Simon directed the first of these experimental plays, "Kiss and Tell," in which Peter Lawford, one of the stars of "Son of Lassie" played a leading role. Mr. Simon has great faith in Peter Lawford's acting ability and feels that he will shortly become one of Hollywood's stars.

Perhaps the most temperamental actress he ever had to handle was his own five-year-old daughter, Susan. A child was needed for one scene in "Salute to the Marines," which starred Wallace Beery, and which Mr. Simon directed, so he arranged to have Susan do the scene. However, the first try didn't go off quite right and it was necessary to repeat the scene. Susan rebelled right there, "If my daddy's the director I don't see why I have to do it twice," she said. After much coaxing she was persuaded to do it over and the scene was taken.

Hard Twist Surprises In $10,000 Longacres Mile

SEATTLE (AP)—George Peters' Hard Twist, four-year-old racer from Arizona, galloped to a win in the $10,000 Longacres Mile Sunday in a three-horse photo finish which placed Prince Ernest and Sir Jeffery in second and third spots by a nose each. The time was 1.36.

A crowd of more than 11,000, who wagered $61,295, a record at the track for a single race, saw J. R. Gregory's favored double entry of First To Fight and Kind Sir, completely shut out of the money by three comparative outsiders, as Hard Twist, a 15-to-1 shot, hauled down the money.

The time of 1.36, on a warm day and dry track, was .8 of a second over the mile record at Longacres.

Hard Twist paid his backers $32.30, $11.40 and $6.30 for a $2.00 parimutuel ticket. Prince Ernest backers collected $5.00 and $4.60, while Sir Jeffrey paid $4.00.

Reeling Browns Get Split With Detroit

Beaten almost to their knees, the bewildered St. Louis Browns rose from a near-knockout blow Sunday to slug out a draw.

Reeling from a 5 to 3 setback by Detroit Tigers for their fourth loss in a row and their ninth setback in the last 11 games, the Browns recovered their equilibrium to pound out a 17 to 2 nightcap victory over the Tigers.

The split enabled the American League pace-setters to retain their 3½-game lead over the second-place New York Yankees, who got no better than a split with Washington Senators.

Boston Red Sox moved into a tie for third by a double victory over Philadelphia Athletics.

The Tigers must uncover another hurler to go with Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout. Newhouser gained his 21st victory before 51,376 fans, Detroit's largest crowd of the season, yesterday, though he was nicked for 13 hits. Trailing 3 to 1, the Tigers pounced on Bob Muncrief for four runs in the sixth to win.

The Browns came to life in the nightcap, pounding five Tiger hurlers for six runs in each of the second and third innings and four in the seventh.

The New York Yankees missed an opportunity to gain a full game on the Browns when they dropped the second game, 5 to 4, after winning the opener from the Washington Senators, 4 to 2. A pinch single by Wilfred Lefebvre with two out and the bases full scored the winning run in the ninth. George Stirnweiss, Yankees' leading hitter, was stopped after hitting in 17 straight contests.

The Boston Red Sox double win over the Philadelphia Athletics 8 to 5 and 7 to 2, ended a five-game losing streak. Bob Johnson paced the Red Sox with five hits, three in the second game.

For the first time this season, St. Louis Cardinals failed to win at least one game on a Sunday, when they dropped the opener 14 to 6 to Pittsburgh Pirates and tied the second 1 to 1 in 10 innings, halted by darkness.

Mel Ott hit two homers as New York Giants won two from Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 1 and 4 to 2, to increase their fourth-place lead over Chicago Cubs to 1½ games. Philadelphia and Boston Braves split, the Phillies winning the opener 8 to 5, and the Braves taking the nightcap 4 to 3.

Five C's Register Easy Cricket Win

Five C's bolstered their position at the top of the local cricket league Saturday by defeating the Albions, 98 for eight wickets to 48.

Batting first, the Albions had trouble with Jack Payne's bowling. Five men were retired for only 16 runs, and only 24 were on the board when the eighth wicket fell. Swainson and Grant were able to add 24 runs. Grant was high bat for the Albions with 18, while Swainson provided 14 not out.

Harper with 32 led the Five C's, followed by Nixon and Quainton, each with 16.

Jack Payne captured seven Albion wickets for 18 runs.

K.V.'s Gain Split With Ladysmith In Island Ball Final

K.V.'s gained an even split with Ladysmith at Nanaimo Sunday in the first two games of the island men's B fastball championship. The Victoria club scored a 4 to 3 victory in the 10-inning opener and dropped an 11-inning 3 to 2 decision in the second engagement. The games attracted 2,000.

Third and deciding battle will be played at the Athletic Park Thursday night, starting at 6.15.

Rom Knott was the winning hurler in the first encounter. With the score deadlocked 3 to 3 in the 10th, Jimmy Baker singled and went all the way to third on O'Connor's hit. Scott hit safely to drive Baker home with the deciding run. Battie hurled for Ladysmith.

The second game saw the K.V.'s take a one-run lead in the third with Ladysmith deadlocking the score in the sixth. Each team scored a run in the ninth with Popovich's hit driving in the winning run for Ladysmith in the 11th. Minnis hurled nine innings for K.V.'s with Knott taking over in the 10th. Murs hurled for Ladysmith.

Franworth Takes Feature; Sporri Rides 4 Winners

VANCOUVER (CP) — Franworth came up with another of his roaring finishes to win the Michael Wilkinson - Brighouse Handicap by two easy lengths over Sandworth at Hastings Park Saturday.

The seven-year-old gelding provided jockey Emile Sporri with his fourth win in five races. The veteran jockey won the first, second and third heats as well.

Prices started off at a normal clip in the first two races of the card, but it was only a disqualification in the opening heat that kept the first daily double from zooming over $1,000. As it was the combination—Lady Pagan to Arab Somers—paid only $13.10.

Naperton, going to the post at odds of almost 25 to 1, was the offending horse in the opener, and although George Harknett's veteran gelding won by a length and a half, he was disqualified for shutting off Lady Pagan in front of the stand the first time around.

Sweeps American Derby

CHICAGO (AP) — Alfred P. Parker's By Jimminy took a bounding stride toward horse-of-the-year laurels with his runaway triumph in the $80,200 American Derby at Washington Park Saturday.

That the five-horse field was the second smallest in the history of the 34-year-old classic did not minimize the crushing victory by the big brown eastern colt, which tore home six lengths ahead of Old Kentucky, lopping a second from the former Derby record of 2.04 held jointly by Cavalcade and Whirlaway.

By Jimminy virtually blasted into season oblivion Calumet Farm's Pensive, the Kentucky Derby-Preakness champion, which finished fourth, a neck behind Nelson Dunstan. It was the seventh straight setback for Pensive, making a last-chance bid for at least three-year-old honors.

In addition to wrapping $61,650 around the bank-roll of his retired stockbroker owner, By Jimminy also brought distinction to jockey Georgie Woolf of Cardston, Alta., who scored his third successive Derby triumph. Woolf won with Alsab in 1942 and on Askmenow last year.

ALEX BARTH BEATEN

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The weights told the story of the $50,000 added Trenton Handicap at Garden State Park Saturday as Bon Jour, under the light package of 101 pounds, whipped the highly-regarded Alex Barth with a track-record performance for 1⅛ miles.

Alex Barth, top weight in the field of nine with 120 pounds in the saddle, trailed by one-half length when Bon Jour reached the wire in 1.49—four-fifths of a second faster than the course mark. Paperboy, who whipped Alex in the Saratoga Handicap at Belmont Park the previous week, was another half-length back in third place.

PLAYOFF between the Army and Navy clubs for the city baseball championship will be a natural from the viewpoint of spectator appeal. Every game will be a sell-out and, with the series promising to be a dog fight to the finish, I wouldn't be surprised if the officials have trouble getting the people into the park. It's a cinch the grandstand and bleachers will never accommodate the crowds. If the weather man continues his fine co-operation the series is a cinch to set a new all-time high in attendance.

BIG QUESTION MARK of the series, to my way of thinking, is Tony Maze, speedball left-hander of the Army. If the south-paw continues to display the form that has marked his recent appearances, the Navy face a tough time. Maze is big and strong with the result he can work often. Army's chances of winning and losing rest squarely on Maze's shoulders. Veteran Lloyd Cann can be counted on to turn in his usual steady mound tricks for the troops. To offset this pitching strength the Navy will call on Jimmy Crosato and Jimmy Ingamells. On the strength of his brilliant hurling against the Victora Machinery Depot, Crosato should shape up well against the Army, despite the fact the troops boast more strength with the stick than the shipyarders. Ingamells will have to get back to his early season form to win. The tall fellow has never been the same since he suffered a sore arm and illness.

ALL IN ALL it should be a rip snorter of a series with the Army appearing to hold a slight edge. I would say the Navy are steadier in the field with Eddie Runge acting as a smart leader at first base. The entire Navy club has improved since the former Hamilton player took over the initial bag. With the series not getting under way until Wednesday the two clubs will take the field well rested.

DROPPED by Central Park Friday night to take in the last few innings of the women's fastball battle between the C.W.A.C. and Adverts. Must admit the girls put on a good show but was surprised at the language of some of the Army gals. They have a mighty fine ball team but their coach should tone them down a little. It's pretty bad when an umpire has to warn a girl against swearing. I realize the fair sex get just as worked up as the men but it sounds a lot worse when they start using abusive language. It certainly doesn't make them any more popular with the fans.

SPEAKING of women's fastball must give a pat on the back to little Etta Somner who toils on the mound for the Victoria Box and Paper club. This miss hurled eight games in 12 days, winning seven of them and played a leading role in her club reaching the city final. And she doesn't tip the scales above 90 pounds. She's the pride and joy of team coach Gordon Perkins.

FASTBALL OFFICILS through president Wally Yeamans of the island association came forth today with a statement to clear up any misunderstanding as to just why a local team did not make the trip to the prairies for the western Canada men's playoffs. "If Dexter Lewers, sponsor of Tommy Tucker's had been willing to put up $1,000 his team could have made the trip," Yeamans said. "However, that $1,000 would have gone into a pool toward the expenses of both Tucker's and the women's champions of Vancouver traveling east. The pool would have been split so much to each player for the mileage covered. As the Vancouver women, in my opinion, would have traveled farther they would have derived the most benefit and I don't think that would have been fair to whoever put up the cash from this end." The island association is not in a position to give any money towards such a trip while the B.C. organization wants to consolidate its finances and, for that reason would have not made any appreciable donation to the pool. It was entirely a case of finances and not lack of interest on the part of the local officials as Mr. Lewers would have the general public believe."

Coast Guard Wins Ball Games

Navy Players Strike

Seattle Coast Guard won a pair of ball games from Victoria All-Stars, 8 to 7 and 9 to 8, Saturday before near-record crowds, but the big news at the ball park was the strike of the Navy players selected to perform with the local nine.

Friday night Eddie Runge, Gil Bruce, Jack Walker and Dick Latif informed officials of the league they would not turn out unless guaranteed certain expense money. Saturday afternoon the Navy players continued their demand and when the president, Bill Cull, and secretary, Sid Thomas, refused to meet their ultimatum, they walked out of the dressing-room.

Faced with the prospect of being unable to place a team on the field the officials called on the Army club to provide sufficient players, and by canvassing other senior players in the stands a team was eventually placed on the field with the game starting nearly half an hour behind schedule.

The revised club performed in grand fashion and in both engagements forced the classy Coast Guarders to come from behind to win. The Seattle club failed to display the same form that marked their previous appearance here earlier in the season. In the afternoon game the visitors were charged with seven errors and only won because Ray Orteig, their pitcher, struck out 16 in one of the finest mound performances seen here this season. His drop ball was snapping off so sharply that even catcher John Leovich had trouble holding the ball. He had six assists as the result of having to throw out batters at first base on strikeouts.

CANN HURLS WELL

Lloyd Cann of the Army worked the nine innings for Victoria and pitched good ball, giving up only eight hits. He was out in front 5 to 1 going into the sixth, when the visitors got to him for five hard smashes and four runs to tie the score. Coast Guarders took the lead with one in the seventh and two in the ninth. Victoria put on a desperate rally that produced two runs in the ninth.

Right fielder Don Stroke led the visitors at the plate with three for four. Eddie Shepherd and Bud Werstine shared four of Victoria's six hits.

Evening game saw Marvin Rickert, colorful first baseman of the Coast Guard nine, take the mound for Victoria. The big fellow, showing a nice fast ball and good curve, made a game attempt to defeat his clubmates and, but for two bad innings, would have turned the trick. He gave up 18 hits while Victoria collected 12 from Lang and Rivera.

Victoria jumped on Lang for three runs in the first inning and in the second Doug Peden lifted the ball out of the lot to make the score 5 to 0. Coast Guard pushed across one run in the third and four in the fourth, with Warren's homer featuring. Fifth saw the Seattle club again tee off with three runners crossing the slab. Victoria added a single in the sixth with the visitors getting one in the seventh. In the last of the seventh the locals got within one run of their opponents with a pair of counters, but that finished the scoring for the night.

Warren led the Coast Guard with a perfect night at the plate, five for five, while Stroulger paced Victoria with four for five.

Short scores follow:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Coast Guard	8	12	7
Victoria	7	6	2

Batteries—Orteig and Leovich; Cann and Harney.

Second game—
Coast Guard	9	18	1
Victoria	8	12	3

Batteries—Lang, Rivera and Leovich, Volk; Rickert and Harney.

Two riding and one jumping competition will be held for children, with men's and women's open saddle classes. There will be an open jumping event over brush, stone wall, post and rails and picket fence. Another event will be the pairs riding. First, second and third prizes will be awarded with four to be given in the open jumping.

J. C. Isherwood and Dr. J. M. Sturdy will show their Kentucky bred saddle horses in hand.

Brig. C. V. Stockwell will act as judge.

NORVANS IN FINAL

VANCOUVER (CP)—Norvans will meet Arrows in the Vancouver Senior Baseball League finals opening tonight. Norvans advanced to the finals by defeating St. Regis 3 to 1 Saturday winning the three-of-five series three games to one. The finals are on a four-of-seven basis.

Leggy

What makes Wait a Bit, Gayle Smith up, appear to have seven legs is that Tola Rose, Warren Mehrtens aboard, is directly behind him as horses hit Aqueduct stretch in Longstreet Handicap. Wait a Bit won by a neck.

Mrs. Ken Saunders Wins Edmonton Golf

Mrs. Kenneth Saunders, formerly of Victoria, won the Edmonton women's golf championship over the Prince Rupert course there, defeating her opponent on the 18th, 2 up.

Mrs. Saunders has been close to winning the Edmonton title for the last eight years, being one of the top flight players in Alberta.

Mrs. Saunders, who was born in Victoria, is the wife of a Victoria boy who in the last war made a name for himself in the air, winning the D.F.C. and A.F.C. On returning here, following considerable flying in Sweden, he flew planes and both his wife and himself escaped death when a Curtis plane he was piloting out of the oval at the Willows race track crashed. Later Saunders flew extensively for mining companies in Quebec and then entered the employ of the Civil Aviation Department of the Dominion government. He is now inspector of civil aviation in Alberta.

Mrs. Saunders is a sister of Mrs. Charles A. Steele, 36 Menzies Street.

Rain Halts Rich Golf Tournament; Nelson Still Tops

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain wrecked the final round of the $42,500 All-American golf tournament at Tam o'Shanter Sunday, shunting the pay-off play to today.

The leader in that 72-hold medal-play open test gets $10,100 in cash, or $13,462.50 in war bonds. It's the biggest pay-off in golfdom's history, and with 54 of the 72 holes out of the way Byron Nelson, the long, lean, lanky lad from Texas and Toledo, is ready to snatch it.

All Nelson, second highest money winner of the year, has to do is maintain a two-stroke edge over the field. He set up the lead in the second round, and held it through the third Saturday, despite a 73, his fourth journey above par in 56 rounds this season.

McSPADEN UP CLOSE

Right behind him, however, are Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia, the year's heavy money winner, and Pte. Buck White of Greenwood, Miss. Nelson, winner of the tournament in 1941 and 1942, has 211 strokes, five under par for the 54 holes. McSpaden, who beat White in last season's title play-off, is tied with White at 213, only two shots off the pace.

Another army man, Sgt. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Dayton's Wright Field, is close up with 214, and Bud Williamson of Lincoln, Neb., has 215.

At least 25 players are under par, or within a stroke or two of even figures for the route, and all must be granted an outside chance in the stretch drive.

Joe Ruggles Leads

J. W. Ruggles set the pace in the Challoner and Mitchell Cup competition, 18 holes medal on full handicap, at the Oak Bay Golf Club Sunday with a score of 78-14—64.

Brian Combe was runner-up with 79-12—67, and H. F. Hepburn third with 79-10—69.

F. Clarkson, Harold Lineham, Bill and Walter Newcombe reached the semifinals of the men's city golf championship at the Uplands Club Sunday.

Feature of the quarterfinals was the 21-hole victory of Lineham over Lieut. Roy Stranix. Clarkson defeated Freddy Basanta 1 up; Bill Newcombe put out H. G. MacKenzie, 3 and 2 while Walter Newcombe eliminated Walter Spaven 1 up.

In the semifinals, which must be played before Saturday night, Clarkson battles Lineham and the Newcombe brothers battle. Final will be played Sunday.

Results in the flights follow:

Is This To Be Canada's First Open-to-Pacific Resort?

SOMBRIO BEACH—One mile long . . . nearest to Victoria . . . open to Pacific Ocean . . . water 10 degrees warmer . . . no cold winds.

By R. S. GALLOP

Only some six or eight miles from the present end of the west coast road on Vancouver Island there is the only ocean beach available to the city of Victoria.

This beach is one mile long and is the only thing of its kind for 100 miles of coastline.

It occupied a pocket in the coastline, protected by headlands both east and west, and on the north by a mountain range that is 3,000 feet high, making it the only ocean beach on the coast that is free from objectionable winds. The water is 10 degrees warmer than at Victoria and elsewhere on the north coast. Salmon berries ripen here in the middle of February. It has been a health resort for coast Indians for generations.

The sandstone bedrock slopes gently seaward for a quarter of a mile, making for shallow water for that distance, which gives full effect to the ocean swells as they travel shoreward, a truly inspiring sight when there is a disturbance at sea.

Here are caves, canyons and waterfalls, pools in the rocks and marine gardens with many kinds of sea life not found in inland waters. This beach has splendid water powers, timber, ornamental stones, sand and gravel, in fact, everything desirable in an ocean beach.

Immediately behind the Sombrio beach, at the head of the Sombrio River, there is a natural park at an altitude of some 3,000 feet above sea level. There are open glades and meadows, with sod bottoms, stunted groves of trees, ponds, rocks and waterfalls of considerable area. Here are almost ready-made alpine golf course sites, without a rival in any part of the world; the view from here is beyond description.

The distance from the beach to the park lands on the summit is about five miles, with an easy grade all the way and no rock. The development of this ocean beach, together with the alpine golf courses and bridle paths along the mountain plateau will make for the greatest tourist attraction on the North Pacific coast.

If the highway is ever completed it will make this ocean resort easily accessible to the thousands of people who now live in the Greater Victoria area. It is only a two-hour drive from the city centre.

Dairy Workers Urgently Needed

Farms of South Vancouver Island are in urgent need of men and women to help with dairy work, Charles Williams, secretary of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, and C. M. Smith, director of the Victoria office of the Dominion-Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Service, said today.

All the dairy farms of the districts are seriously affected by the lack of help, it was stated, and this is the worst labor situation experienced by South Vancouver Island farms, according to Mr. Williams.

Some concern was expressed regarding harvesting of fall crops. Corn and root crops are now ready to be handled, it was stated. The abnormal drought this summer has caused a considerable drop in milk production, and the situation is expected to become worse. However, the dry weather has been of great benefit for hay harvesting and little hay has been left in the fields.

Mr. Williams said men and women over 70 years have been doing farm jobs, including milking. Farm owners have to put in extra long days to compensate for the lack of help, he said.

He paid tribute to the many women drivers working on the farm trucks, whose work has been very satisfactory, he said.

High school students have slightly eased the labor situation during the summer months, but when these boys return to school in September there will be no others to take their place.

Sets World Mark

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A dispatch from Helsinki Friday said Ljo Heino, a Finn, surpassed the world record for the 10,000-metre run with a clocking of 29 minutes, 35.4 seconds. The listed record is 29.52.6 by Taisto Maki, another Finn, at Helsinki June 16, 1939.

Translated into miles and yards, the distance is six miles, 376 yards and four inches.

En route to his record, Heino was timed at 28.38.6 for the six miles.

New Deal Sought For Light Keepers

Dissatisfaction with the manner in which the lighthouse-keeper question is being handled was voiced by the Joint Veterans-Labor Consultative Council Sunday as the council went on record calling for a complete reclassification of men engaged in that service.

The development of aids to navigation in the last 10 years, during which delegates claimed the work has nearly doubled, necessitated an overhaul of the system to relieve keepers of undue hardships, members said.

Provision for rehabilitation training for discharged personnel together with establishment of convalescent facilities for veterans returning from active service received general discussion.

G. A. Wilkinson, Wm. Caird, Major Carl Fallas, A. Palmer and H. E. Taylor were appointed to a committee to bring in a brief on necessary rehabilitation plans. The same committee was asked to prepare a brief on the functions of a working democracy and full employment.

Letters to the Editor

BUNDLES FOR BRITAIN

I am hoping you can spare a space in your valuable paper for a few words in respect to above.

I ask this because so many rumors are being spread about that there cannot be the necessity now for supplying bundles to the Old Country.

I can assure you that the public are in error in so believing and from letters I have received from England there is absolutely no doubt that those who have suffered in the past and those who are suffering now from the effects of flying bombs are relying on the bundles still arriving. These letters are full of gratitude for what has been done for them already, and on the other hand are begging that the bundles should continue to be sent.

I suppose there comes a time in all our lives when during such an emergency as this war some of us at our age cannot do the strenuous part of life, but are not too ancient for the milder forms. Being myself in this category I have for some time tried to help with such milder duties, and my experience is that given more help in the shape of those who are able and willing to prepare the various articles in the bundles by mending them by hand or machine or in the great job of sorting and classifying them many more bundles could be got off to help these sufferers.

Crates and crates could be sent to them if more and more ladies could spare definite times in the work, even an hour or two, so to help and do their very best to adhere to such times.

Early in this war the Prime Minister of Great Britain said in reference to the Battle of Britain that so many were so grateful to so few when referring to the gratitude of the general public compared to the few airmen defending them. It seems to me that his remarks applies to the many sufferers at home who have been helped out by Bundles for Britain by so few workers in Victoria.

I should, therefore, earnestly appeal to all those who are sewers, sorters or machinists to come forward in great number to increase the output.

YOUR AA RATION IS AN "ISSUE" OF VITAL AMMUNITION

GASOLINE RATION AA CANADA RATIONNEMENT DE L'ESSENCE

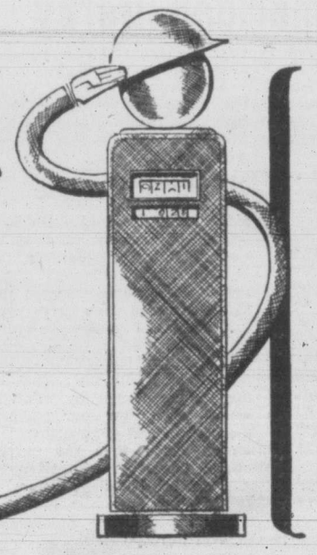
THINK!... before you waste a drop!

GASOLINE for all purposes—civil and military—comes from the one common petroleum pool of the Allied Nations! Oil control in Canada must keep our withdrawals from this common pool down to a minimum. Your AA ration was not given to you for pleasure driving. It represents the outside limit of what the average motorist should use for essential wartime driving including voluntary war work.

In this country, where train, bus and street car systems cannot alone carry all essential traffic, the motor car is an indispensable link in the nation's transportation chain. It is to help keep civil transportation rolling that your AA gasoline allowance is made. Only in instances where this basic allowance is insufficient for some specific essential service or war job, are extra rations being allowed.

Remember that your gasoline ration is an "issue" of ammunition. Don't waste it. Don't squander it on needless trips. It is your obligation to make your AA allowance do a real wartime job. Every gallon we can go without here at home means that much more for the fighting men.

LESS CIVILIAN GAS MEANS MORE "FIGHTING GAS" FOR THE FORCES



Answering YOUR QUESTIONS about the GASOLINE SHORTAGE

Which is the most highly mechanized army in the world? . . . Canada's Army. What type of gasoline is standard for all military vehicles overseas? . . . A fine grade automobile gasoline—80 octane "all purpose" gasoline. How much more gasoline is needed to fight this war than the last? . . . 80 times as much!

Thrown against the side of a truck by a fire hose which was being unloaded during a small fire at the Empress Hotel Saturday evening, Constable Charles Webb, city police, suffered cuts, bruises, and injuries to his right shoulder, which were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital by Dr. G. Hall.

The fire, reported to have been apparently started by overheated pipes, causing flames to break out on an adjacent window sill, was in a room on the first floor of the hotel. Slight damage was done.

Canada Counterpart Of Golden Rule Plan Says Chas. V. Vickrey

Creation of an independent Canadian committee based on the principles of the long-established Golden Rule Foundation is contemplated, Charles V. Vickrey, president, who is in Victoria from New York headquarters, said today.

With Mrs. Vickrey, the former Ada Spencer of Victoria, he is visiting at the home of Miss Sara Spencer, 1040 Moss Street.

The Golden Rule president came here direct from Los Angeles after attending a series of conferences in the southern California city.

"Our ideal," said Mr. Vickrey, "is to have a wholly independent Canadian committee, co-operating with, but independent of the United States' organization—and the same thing with every other country throughout the world, contributing toward world peace based on brotherhood rather than force; though, of course, recognizing the necessity of force at present."

WORLD FELLOWSHIP

"Our great ultimate goal," said Mr. Vickrey, "is a world fellowship of the Golden Rule, composed of all religions and nationalities, with the Golden Rule —'Whatsoever ye would that others should do unto you, do ye even so unto them'—as a guide to all relationships of life."

The Golden Rule, he explained, is a common denominator of all religions and a moral precept accepted throughout the world.

"If we can get enough people in the Golden Rule Fellowship who will practice what they profess," said Mr. Vickrey, "another war will at least be more difficult . . . if not impossible."

With the practice of the Golden Rule comes also increased generosity in the support of all religious and humanitarian institutions, he said.

Over the past 15 years, Mr. Vickrey pointed out, gifts to churches and related charities had decreased considerably, which was to be regretted.

Referring specifically to the United States in this connection, he said: "It might be described as a moral sag in the life of the nation."

He quoted statistics to show that in the U.S. in 1932, the deepest depression year, the per capita income was $322, with church and church-related gifts estimated at $19.02, whereas in 1944, with per capita income at $1,111 the estimated gifts were $16.15.

HOPE TO REGAIN LEVELS

The objective now was to regain the depression levels of 1932 in 1944 giving American citizens, with a total income of more than $70,000,000,000, spend more than $16,000,000,000 for luxuries each year, and at the present rate more than $7,000,000,000 for war in one year, rising rapidly toward the $18,000,000,000 spent by the U.S. in World War I.

These figures are based on 1941 expenditures.

The explanation is, according to the Golden Rule Fellowship that people are spending far too much on luxuries, on cocktails and other alcoholic beverages, for cigarettes and other forms of tobacco, for cosmetics, chewing gum and kindred indulgences, which were several times the total of gifts for all forms and areas of war relief.

Victoria War Brides Who Left Here Three Weeks Ago Arrive In Britain

By EILEEN MERRETT

They may not be following their husbands to the ends of the earth, but the group of Victoria girls, married to men of the Royal Air Force, who left the city early this . . . for the United Kingdom are going half way.

Word was received over the week-end by relatives here of the safe arrival of the brides in Britain. News of their departure had to be withheld for security reasons.

Weeks and months of waiting ended abruptly when they received notice that there would be transportation for them on a boat Britain-bound. Parents, brothers, sisters and friends were at the C.P.R. wharf to bid them good-bye and wish these girls who had been office workers and store clerks, many of them with little travel experience, good luck as they began their trek. The Victoria girls were included in a group of 32, the majority of whom were English wives of R.A.F. men who were being returned to the Old Country.

Among the R.C.A.F. personnel here who were making arrangements for their journey was Sgt. R. F. Johnston. The women were met in Vancouver by the Red Cross and given dinner before the C.P.R. placed them on special coaches. Section Officer S. O. Blenkinsop, special services officer with the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F., met the group in Vancouver.

The Sea Cadet Band was leaving Victoria for Vancouver on the same boat and provided music for the occasion.

FORM VICTORIA CLUB

While waiting, slightly "jittery" for word that they could join their husbands now overseas, the girls met at one another's homes and compared notes. In Britain they intend to form a Victoria Club to keep in touch with one another, while some will find themselves living in the same town.

"They seem to think that it's only a week-end jaunt from one part of England to another," said the sister of one of the brides.

The Victoria girls were joined at points all across the Dominion by other Canadian girls married to English airmen who were posted overseas many months ago. Thousands of English boys were stationed for two and three years at Canadian posts and consider cities such as Victoria, Calgary, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Moncton and Summerside as their second homes.

While soldiers of Canada's First Division claimed English brides during their long stay in the south of England, English air veterans of Dunkerque and the Battle of Britain were wooing and winning the hearts of many western Canadian girls.

SINGER IN SOUTHAMPTON

One of the city's most popular young singers, Victoria Redgrave, became the bride of Cpl. Francis Dover-Masters, R.A.F., last winter and shortly after the wedding he was returned to England. Victoria, who is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stroud Lincoln Redgrave, 619 Harbinger Street, will join her husband at Southampton, where she will make her future home.

Dorothy Turner, daughter of Wilfred A. Turner and the late Mrs. Turner, 1619 Pinewood, married Flt. Sgt. A. G. Jagger, a staff pilot with the R.A.F., last December, and waited three months for a chance to get to the United Kingdom. A nurse before her marriage, Dorothy will not only have her husband waiting to meet her, but her friend, Muriel Armstrong, another Victoria girl, married to an R.A.F. flier from Leeds, the home town of Flt. Sgt. Jagger.

Muriel, who is now the wife of PO. Walter Boyes, is the daughter of Sgt.-Maj. and Mrs. W. N. Armstrong, 252 Memorial Crescent. She went overseas in June, and is quite thrilled with England, according to the last letter received by her parents. Before her marriage she worked at the Sally Shop.

LIVED NEAR EACH OTHER

Hilda Kyle, who joined the trecking R.A.F. wives at Montreal, went east four months ago, and lived in Dartmouth, N.S., in the hopes of getting an earlier passage than might otherwise be the case if she remained in Victoria. Hilda, who worked with the law firm of Heisterman & Manzer, became the bride of FO. W. S. Bates, R.A.F., Dec. 30, 1943. Her husband, who was an electrical engineer in Sunderland, was through Dunkerque and the Battle of Britain. Hilda and Dorothy Turner lived but a block from each other in Victoria. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kyle, 242 Wildwood.

Hassacks, Sussex, will be the home of the former Sheila Watson, now the wife of Cpl. Edgar King, R.A.F., who was a bombing instructor at Patricia Bay. Sheila, who is the daughter of C. R. Watson, Brentwood, worked at the Island Weavers prior to her marriage.

Doreen Penketh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Penketh, 2744 Avebury Ave., who became the bride of Flt. Lt. D. R. T. John, R.A.F., in November, 1943, was one of the lucky Victorians who arrived in England in June. She will make her home at Miskin, Pontyclum, Wales. Prior to her marriage Doreen worked in the office of the Overseas Tobacco Fund.

Ellen Leask, who was married to Cpl. George Edward Cartland, R.A.F., in March, 1943, will make her home in Birmingham and plans to keep in touch with her friend, Sheila Watson. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leask, 1126 Johnson St., Ellen worked at the Hudson's Bay Company before her marriage.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Jessie Paterson, who left with the group, will be in plenty of time to spend her second wedding anniversary with her husband, for she became the bride of LAC. Jack Hilliard, R.A.F., in December of 1942. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Paterson, 1190 May St., Jessie was employed at the Bert Waude Beauty Salon. Broxbourne, Herts., will be her hometown in England.

It was not the first trip to England for Alison Craig, who is the wife of Cpl. James Noel Scott, R.A.F. She went to England for a trip in 1936. Prior to her marriage in June, 1943, she was employed in the commercial office of the B.C. Telephone Company. Cpl. and Mrs. Scott will make their home in Liverpool.

Born Here In 1859, Mrs. MacLachlan Dies

Born in Victoria in 1859, when still there was a fort on the waterfront, Mrs. Clara MacLachlan, who died at the week-end, will be buried tomorrow.

It is reliably thought she was the oldest living native daughter of Victoria. For the last 53 years she had lived at 1032 Mason Street, where she is survived by her son, Robert D. MacLachlan, widely known in the Native Sons of Canada organization.

Her parents were William H. Croghan, who came here from England for the Hudson's Bay Company, and Amy Thomas Croghan, also a native of England.

When Mrs. MacLachlan was a small girl she often traveled in Indian canoes with her parents to Fort Langley, Salt Spring Island, Maple Bay and other H.B.C. posts on the coast.

It was in 1881 that Clara Croghan married Capt. Daniel MacLachlan, a member of the firm of MacLachlan Brothers and Lee, owners of lime quarries and kilns of San Juan and Orcas Island. Capt. MacLachlan also owned several trading schooners which operated to trading posts in north Pacific waters. From 1882 to 1896 Capt. MacLachlan conducted a grain business in Victoria and later was with the Department of Indian Affairs and at the time of his death in 1916, was with the Dominion Public Works Department.

Mrs. MacLachlan had remained active through the years, taking much interest in world affairs and dearly loving to talk of pioneer days. When Victoria celebrated its diamond jubilee some years ago she was one of the honored guests at a birthday dinner. For 55 years she had attended First United Church, being widely known and respected and a worker in many of its organizations.

At her funeral the pallbearers and ushers, at her express wish, will be members of Victoria Assembly, Native Sons of Canada, which was organized at her home 23 years ago, and in which she had always been keenly interested.

Thanksgiving Mass For Paris' Freedom

A solemn high mass in thanksgiving for the liberation of Paris will be celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning it was announced by the L'Alliance France Libre today.

Representatives of the three branches of the armed forces will be in attendance, and all the French people of the district are invited to attend.

Capt. J. Cimon, senior military Roman Catholic chaplain, will officiate at the mass.

E. E. Wootton, 78, Well-Known Lawyer, Native Son, Dies

Edward Ernest Wootton, 78, native son of Victoria, well-known and highly-esteemed lawyer, for more than half a century, devoted Anglican Church worker, died Sunday at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mr. Wootton was the son of the late Capt. Henry Wootton, who once traded in his own schooner between China and Britain and came here to become postmaster of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island. Mr. Wootton was born in the old Wootton home at 70 Rae Street, now the northwest corner of Quadra and Courtney. The old home still stands, serving as a link between colonial days and the present.

After attending Collegiate School and Victoria High School Mr. Wootton was articled as student-at-law with D. M. Eberts, K.C., who later was appointed to the Court of Appeal. He was called to the bar Aug. 4, 1888, and practiced until illness forced his retirement last December.

During his long legal career, Mr. Wootton was associated with the late Charles Wilson, K.C., one-time Attorney-General, and was in partnership with H. G. Barnard, now a senator and the late A. E. McPhillips, later on the Court of Appeal. After the firm of McPhillips, Wootton and Barnard was dissolved, Mr. Wootton became associated with the late B. G. Goward and for the last 20 years had been in partnership with his son, Robert A. B. Wootton.

PRMINENT CHURCHMAN

For many years Mr. Wootton had been associated with the Church of England and had been a warden at St. Barnabas Church. Latterly he had been a prominent member of St. Mary's Church congregation. Feb. 24, 1912, he was named registrar of the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia, a position he held until his death. He was a charter member of the Y.M.C.A.; a member of the Royal Arcanum and had been associated with the Native Sons of B.C.

Mr. Wootton was married in 1893 to Frances Amelia, fourth daughter of the late Rev. R. H. Smith and Jessie Burnie Smith. Last year they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. For many years their family home was on Richardson Street. In recent years they had lived on Victoria Avenue.

Mrs. Wootton survives her husband. They had five sons, all of whom served in the First or Second World Wars—Henry Wootton, M.C.; Edward A. Wootton, Honolulu; Francis W. Y. Wootton, Edmonton; Arthur Wootton, at present with the Canadian Army overseas, and Robert A. B. Wootton, Victoria; four daughters, Mrs. Jessie A. S. Rugg, in California; Mrs. Bertha Stewart, Cowichan Station; Mrs. Kathleen V. Clark, Oak Bay, and Miss E. Mary Wootton, at home. Two children predeceased him.

Walter Hembroff Dies

Walter Hembroff, owner of the real estate and insurance firm of L. M. Rosevear and Company, died Sunday at Royal Jubilee Hospital after a few weeks' illness.

Born in Ontario Mr. Hembroff came to Victoria 32 years ago. For many years he owned the Victoria agency of Tire and Rubber Company.

Mr. Hembroff, a widower, leaves three daughters, Mrs. Frederick Brand, wife of an R.C.A.F. officer overseas; Mrs. T. C. Ruch, wife of a medical professor at Yale, and Mrs. L. P. Herrington, also wife of a Yale professor. Mrs. Brand and Mrs. Ruch are at present visiting the city, staying at the family home at 1031 Newport.

Youth Group Visits

More than 50 members of the Seattle Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. visited Victoria Sunday, arriving in the morning and leaving on the late afternoon boat.

Members of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. acted as hosts for the group, which met at the Y.W.C.A. building upon their arrival. The group were shown around the city and a bicycle tour of Greater Victoria was made during the afternoon following a luncheon at the Empress Hotel. Some of them attended the band concert at Beacon Hill Park in the afternoon also.

Band Concert

A record crowd attended the Sunday afternoon concert in Beacon Hill Park when the Esquimalt Garrison Band, directed by Bandmaster G. E. Bower, played. Light pieces by American and European composers were included in the program. A xylophone solo was presented by Musician A. E. Cross.

Next Sunday will be the final band concert of the season, and a collection will be taken to provide Christmas cheer for the local hospitals, the aged men's and women's homes, the Solarium and the Orphanage.

Oiling of Richmond Road adjacent to the Strathcona ward is sought by Jubilee Hospital authorities in a letter to the city today. The dust is disturbed by passing traffic and annoys patients in the ward, the communication said.

Top-Notch Musical Comes to Capitol

Four charming angels — very much alive — visited the screen of the Capitol Theatre today in Paramount's "And the Angels Sing." This Angel family quartette comprised the beauteous foursome of Dorothy Lamour, Betty Hutton, Diana Lynn and Mimi Chandler with Fred MacMurray as the male attraction.

The story's racy pattern combines comedy, music and romance in one of the year's most delightful films. Opening in a small rural community, the picture describes the Angel family, presided over by Raymond Walburn as the loving pater, who's saving money to buy a small farm he'd eyed for some time. Although his daughters are musically inclined, their interests run to other fields.

However, when Fred MacMurray, as a band leader, borrows money from Betty Hutton and is a long time repaying it, the girls are spurred into action.

Lana Turner Star With Clark Gable

In the new Clark Gable-Lana Turner film, "Somewhere I'll Find You," now at the Rio, the opening sequences are in Greenwich Village. Great care was taken in the building of the sets, particularly the apartment occupied by a couple of Gable's friends in the movie. The bedroom is typical. One door is taller than the other as if the shorter door had been an afterthought when a town house was cut up into apartments. The room is small with a window overlooking a court and an atmospheric touch is the bedstead which does not fit into the wall space but covers part of the window. The walls are papered with an old-fashioned pattern and pictures have been used to cover torn places.

For the exteriors photographs of real Village streets were taken and the winding narrow lanes, the iron grill work on some of the old apartments, the cobblestones on some of the streets have been accurately duplicated.

Lifetime Career In Movies for Anne

Anne Shirley, Hollywood's child prodigy who grew up to be one of the screen's most glamorous stars, was an artist's model at 14 months, an actress at three years, a featured player at four, and a star at 16, which almost sets a record for a lifetime career even in the film capitol. The lovely young Miss Shirley co-stars with Michael O'Shea in Republic's "Man From Frisco," the production on which the studio set a million dollar budget, and which comes to the Dominion Theatre for a three-day showing.

Best-Seller Book Cadet's Feature

Twentieth Century-Fox's stirring picturization of Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary," the action-packed story of the hard-fighting, wisecracking U.S. Marines who brought America its first taste of victory, is scheduled to open today at the Cadet Theatre.

Heading the brilliant cast of the film, are Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn. The film was directed by Lewis Seiler, and produced by Bryan Foy, with Islin Auster as associate producer.

'The Purple Heart' Playing at Atlas

Taking it's title from America's oldest military decoration, established by General George Washington during the Revolutionary War, Darryl F. Zanuck's rousing production of "The Purple Heart" opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

The 20th Century-Fox drama of what happened when Yank bombers of Tokyo fell into the Japs' brutal hands, features Dana Andrews, Richard Conte, Farley Granger, Kelvin O'Shea, Donald Barry, Trudy Marshall and Sam Levene.

Nelson Eddy and Constance Dowling, the gay lovers in "Knickerbocker Holiday," comedy hit now playing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, through United Artists release.

Nelson Eddy Star At Oak Bay, Plaza

Old New Amsterdam (now New York!) lives again in all its splendor in the gay, looney, tuney "Knickerbocker Holiday," a comedy set to music which opens at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists release.

The initial production of Producers Corporation of America, "Knickerbocker Holiday" is a faithful film adaptation of the hit play which made musical history on Broadway not many seasons ago.

Under the production and directorial genius of Harry Joe Brown and with Nelson Eddy, Charles Coburn and Constance Dowling filling the star roles, the musical comedy retains all of the charm and gaiety of the original Maxwell Anderson-Kurt Weill play while adding much that is new to an already excellent production.

Gary Cooper, Frances Dee and George Raft in a scene from "Souls at Sea," now being shown at the York Theatre.

Big Double Bill To Show at York

Two great masterpieces of the screen, boasting casts which read like the "Who's Who in Hollywood," opened at the York Theatre today, and it's a job for any reviewer to find words to describe the show adequately.

Billed as "the greatest two for one show on land and sea," the program is just that. One is the Cecil B. DeMille epic, "Union Pacific," boasting a cast of literally thousands, headed by Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea, and the other is Paramount's spectacular sea drama, "Souls at Sea," which has Gary Cooper, George Raft and Frances Dee in the top spots with good support from Henry Wilcoxon, Harry Carey, Olympe, Bradna, Porter Hall, Virginia Weidler, Joseph Schildkraut and Robert Cummings.

Ukrainians Ask Return of Halls

WINNIPEG (CP)—A meeting of the Ukrainian Labor-Farmer Temple Association Sunday adopted a resolution urging the government to act "without further delay" to restore 16 halls belonging to the association which are still in government hands.

Early in the war all properties of the association were seized as enemy alien property and subsequently 92 halls were returned to their owners.

The resolution says that if the government fails to take immediate action, "we will be forced to send another delegation to Ottawa."

J. Tymochek, member of a delegation that visited the capital last July 25, said Hon. N. A. McLarty, Secretary of State and custodian of enemy alien property, had promised early settlement of the restoration question. The four weeks the delegation had agreed to wait for a decision now were up, he said.

Burns' Great-Grandson Dies In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Robert Burns Hutchinson, 89, great grandson of the Scottish poet, for whom he was named, is dead at his home here. Born in Chiltram, England, Mr. Hutchinson spent his youth in England and India, emigrating to a farm at Langlie Prairie, B.C., in 1905. He moved to Vancouver in 1911. Surviving him are his wife and five children.

Taken By Canadians

Troops of the Canadian 1st Army now can look forward to spending leaves on the famed beaches of Deauville and Trouville, on either side of the Toques River mouth, which they recently captured. Probably the most famous bathing resorts in the world, Trouville, which is shown in the background, and later Deauville, became the seaside capitals of the prewar international smart set.

Gas-Filled Robomb Nazi Secret Weapon

ZURICH (CP-Reuters) — The German reprisal weapon "V-3" is said to be a gas-filled flying bomb, according to the Swiss newspaper Volksrecht.

In an article today the paper gave what purported to be first-hand details of German preparations for gas warfare.

Specialists in gas are touring the Reich giving lectures and the preparations, says Volksrecht, are connected with the forthcoming use of "V-3," which is officially described as "the weapon which makes victory certain"—the same description once applied to "V-1," the flying bomb now being launched against London.

Owing to a lack of materials there is still a shortage of gas masks in Germany, according to the newspaper. Improvised protectors, consisting of rags and a small filter, are therefore being supplied, even to children.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Families of 25 servicemen will be provided with housing by the army on Sea Island after Sept. 1, Major-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., G.O.C.-in-C., Pacific Command, announced.

On authority from Ottawa Gen. Pearkes will turn over Camp No. 1 on Sea Island to Wartime Housing Ltd.

The crown company will remodel the 1939-40 type army huts into living quarters.

If more space is required other army camp buildings will be converted.

New Ration Books To Go Out Oct. 14

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Board has announced that Ration Book No. 5 will be distributed to the Canadian public the week of Oct. 14 to 21, and said coupons will be included in the new book to cover "emergencies that may arise.'

K. W. Taylor, co-ordinator of the Foods Administration, said a study is now being made of the preserves ration picture to see what action should be taken should the sugar supply situation become worse.

French headquarters in London said it had received no confirmations of Chevalier's death and added that if it were true, "we would be very much surprised, because orders were that any suspects were to be arrested for trial and not shot immediately."

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

OUR SICK VETERANS

A COUPLE OF days after writing my recent column concerning dogs and hit-and-run drivers, my telephone rang and a feminine voice asked: "Are you interested in the prevention of cruelty to sick veterans?"

I admit I was somewhat startled at the form of the query. But after listening for a few moments, I suggested that the speaker write me the facts of the case.

As I do not accept complaints on mere hearsay, I investigated, and found that this mother's indignation was justified.

It proved to be another instance of blundering on the part of some official—coupled with a weakness in the present system of handling D.P.N.H. cases.

LOCAL LAD'S CASE

HERE, FOR instance, was the case of a young Victoria soldier sent back from England suffering from tuberculosis.

After treatment in Shaughnessy Heights Hospital, the authorities decided to send him to Victoria for further care.

Because he was considered a stretcher case, an escort was detailed to accompany him. But on arrival they and their patient walked off the boat together.

A private ambulance was at the wharf. But, expecting to see the familiar service ambulance, they ignored it. Nor did the ambulance attendants connect the little party with their expected stretcher case.

THREE HOURS WASTED

SO, AFTER waiting an hour, the escort telephoned the Victoria Military Hospital, which at once dispatched an ambulance for the man with instructions for him to proceed to the Jubilee T.B. unit.

But there no bed was available, nor was the patient expected.

So back again he went to the military hospital, which at once made arrangements for his admission to Vernon Villa—where he had been expected all the time.

Thus it was nearly three hours after he left the boat before this sick lad was put to bed.

Fortunately, he seems to have suffered no lasting ill-effects from the trying experience.

REGRETTABLE MISTAKE

THIS CHAPTER OF accidents, I learned, was due to several causes. In the first place, the patient and his escort should have registered with the purser. I wonder if Shaughnessy told them to do so?

From my small knowledge of military matters I understand that members of the armed forces are furnished with written instructions of some sort when sent traveling?

Otherwise how do they justify their presence on boat or train or satisfy the members of the Provost Corps?

Had Shaughnessy provided such written directions, the men in question would have known what to do and where to go, instead of wasting valuable hours.

HOSPITALS NOT RESPONSIBLE

NEITHER OF THE local hospitals is in any way responsible for the arrangements for admission of D.P.N.H. patients. And even after admission such patients remain strictly under the control of the D.P.N.H.

So it seems elementary to suggest that veterans should never be transferred from Shaughnessy unless the medical officer of the district to which they are being sent, or the veterans' welfare officer, is notified.

Incidentally, I find that the first intimation the latter had of the 45 other island men arriving in Vancouver from overseas a few days ago was the item in the news columns of this paper.

This in itself suggests a lack of co-ordination somewhere. It is up to Ottawa to correct the situation.

SUCH BLUNDERS COSTLY

AS I HAVE written before, much of the good inherent in Canada's well-devised and generous provision for the returned veteran will be nullified if officialdom falls down on the job and bumbledom steps in.

Not that I am blaming Ottawa for every blunder made by a minor official, nor do I expect every official to be infallible.

But if there is one place in which meticulous care should be exercised it is in the handling of our sick and wounded veterans.

For it must be remembered that mistakes can be costly—not only in their physical effect on the patient but also in terms of worry and natural resentment on the part of his family.

NEED DISCHARGE DEPOT HERE

BEYOND ALL ELSE, this particular case focusses attention on something for which veterans' organizations and other public bodies—as well as I in this column—have long clamored.

That is for the Department of Pensions and National Health to establish a discharge depot here.

At present we have only a sub-depot, which means that Shaughnessy acts as a sort of giant seine-net in which all veterans are caught and held on their arrival from the east.

Why shouldn't Vancouver Island veterans come straight here? It would save a lot of the expense incurred in relatives having to go to the mainland to see them.

BROOKS NO DELAY

WE HAVE BEEN assured by Ottawa that Victoria is to have its own 250-bed hospital for returned men. Such a scheme brooks no delay. It must have priority over everything.

Let us see to it, too, that this hospital is run in conjunction with a D.P.N.H. discharge depot—complete with all the most modern facilities for the manufacture and repair of artificial limbs and all surgical appliances.

For this island, both in this war and in the last, responded to every appeal to its manpower and resources with a ready generosity which more than justifies such an establishment here—and quickly.

Stocks and Mines

TORONTO (Dow Jones)—Donalda Mines—Continued progress is being made to establish and finally limit the ore body which has been indicated by successive holes drilled in an attempt to locate the ore section cut by No. 3 hole. Holes No. 26 and 28 have established the existence of the ore body 200 feet further west, while hole No. 27 has extended the body 250 feet north. Next move is to establish the limits of the body south and east, and it is hoped that in the next six weeks the present indicated 400,000 tons will be doubled. Indicated size of the ore body which is mainly above the 300-foot horizon, varying in thickness at a minimum of 12 feet, according to latest drilling, is 1,200 feet in length and over 400 feet in width.

N.Y. Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained on a fairly even keel today as timid investment demand for peace-rated issues helped offset such selling as dribbled into the exchange.

Canadian stocks were quiet and soft.
